THE BEST ROUTE.

The State Line Herald, published at Lakeview, Oregon, reprints Dr. Patterson's letter to the Gazette in advocacy of the Lassen Pass road, and gives its hearty endorsement to that route. The Herald concludes an article respecting it as follows: Beyond the last chance of doubt, the Lassen Pass route is the one over which we can travel with less loss and expense, both in time and actual outlay of money. The roads leading to Reading and Red Bluff from these valleys are now winter locked, and no hopes are entertained of their being open in season for the usual freighting for goods and provisions. The road to Reno is now open, except one point, and that is found on the summit of Lassen Pass, the only mountain to cross on the entire line. These facts are conclusive as to the merits of the two routes so far as Southeastern Oregon and a portion of Northern California are concerned. The line by way of Alturas, Honey Lake and the old stage route to Reno will not compare with the one favored unanimously by the people of the sections above mentioned, in consequence of high mountain ranges to cross, together with many other obstructions equally as embarrassing to the traveler. With the Reno road properly constructed, the people of Surprise, Goose Lake, Drew's, Crooked Creek, Chewaucan and other valleys will have no possible excuse for not shipping the necessary supplies for winter use; but as it now is, we have actually suffered from being corralled to such an extent as to be wholly unable to procure the necessities of life when our supplies were exhausted.

SCRATCHING ADVOCATED.

George William Curtis recently lectured in New York on the "Machine in Politics." He made a powerful plea for independence in voting. The following is a passage from the lecture by the leader of the "Young Scratchers."

"The first powerful and conclusive remedy for the tyranny of the machine, open to every self-respecting man who values his party so highly that he wishes to keep it effective by keeping it clean, is scratching. The word has become a sneer, a taunt, a bitter reproach; but the test of the power and effectiveness of the remedy is the fury with which it assailed. The rumor of a scratch makes the camp of the machine hum as that of the approach of a detective or a marshal stirs the camp of whiskey moonshiners in the mountains. The machine denounces scratchers as lustily as Laud denounced the Puritans, or George III. the rebellious Yankees, or slave-holding Democrats Republican woolly heads. If we would have good men upon the ticket, we must scratch bad men off; and when the machine is taught that the swift punishment of defeat at the polls by the hand of the individual voter will follow betrayal of the party by nominations 'unfit to be made,' such nominations will cease."

APPORTIONMENT OF DELEGATES.

The following table shows the number of delegates which each State and Territory has in the Chicago Convention, which meets on June 3. The basis of representation is two delegates for each electoral vote. The total number of delegates is 756. Necessary to a choice 379:

Alabama.....	10	New Jersey.....	18
Arkansas.....	12	New York.....	70
California.....	12	North Carolina.....	23

A CIVIL ANSWER.

The Carson Appeal has established a catechism of its own, and is making the rest of us stand up and answer. Thursday it says:

"If it is not an impertinent question, we would like to ask the Gold Hill News to designate its choice for U. S. Senator out of all the candidates before the people."

Yesterday morning it was the Gazette's turn and the conundrum is: "We ask the Gazette the plain question: Would you support Sharon for nothing? And further, do you know of any paper in the state that would?"

Frankly, Sam, we would not; nor would we do it for hire. We do not believe there is any reason in the world to be advanced in favor of Mr. Sharon, and we cannot conceive of any one supporting him for reelection except on a simon-pure coin basis. We want to see Senator Sharon defeated, but we are perfectly willing to have him take his place among the candidates. We don't want to see him come into the primaries as he did before, and buy his delegations into the conventions, and we imagine the Appeal's plan would tempt him to do that. No, sir; if Mr. Sharon wants to go to the Senate, let him contribute his share to the success of the Republican party. Let us put honest men into the Legislature (and we can do it) and let Mr. Sharon go alongside of Mr. Tittle, Mr. Woodburn and Mr. Lewis, and the other gentlemen and present his claims upon the party.

THE CHANCES AT CHICAGO.

The S. F. Bulletin figures that should the unit rule be enforced at the Chicago Convention, Grant will be six votes short of a nomination on the first ballot. If not nominated on the first ballot, his strength will be diminished by seventy votes, under the operation of the ruling which liberates delegates from instructions after the first ballot.

The same journal estimates Blaine's strength at 195 votes, 90 less than he started in with in 1876. After the first ballot, he would gain 85 and lose 13, net gain 72. This would give him a total of 278 votes on the second ballot, 112 short of the 379 necessary to carry the nomination.

From these figures it appears that the nomination of either Grant or Blaine is very doubtful. The nomination may be carried for one of the leading candidates by some artifice, or a dark horse may slip in and win the race.

A GOOD PLANK FOR BOTH PARTIES.

Delegate Hagerman has prepared a resolution which he intends to present to the Convention at Winnemucca before it adjourns, to the effect that the money of the state should be expended, as far as possible, within her borders, and that her disbursements should be made to her own citizens, and recommending that our insane be provided for at home and not sent to private parties in California for treatment. We recommend the plank to the Republican Convention when it meets.

The Stockton Herald enumerates the bad investments that the people of that city have made in railroad stocks, and says, in reference to the project of a narrow gauge over the Sierra: "Before the money is raised, however, something more tangible and reliable will have to be offered than the 'supposition of an intention' on the part of somebody or other to build the magnificent narrow gauge system of Nevada which is to extend to the Mississippi."

In Indian valley, Idaho, a grizzly bear stole a pig in the night. Two men jumped out of bed, and seizing their rifles, started in pursuit. One fired at what he supposed to be the bear, and fatally wounded his companion, who had distanced him on the trail.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Democrats have such an excellent system of nominating. They have everything nicely adjusted beforehand. For a week or two the papers about the state have been announcing with confidence, that A. M. Hillhouse would be Chairman and that Tilden would be the first choice for President, Cassidy for Congress, and Belknap for Judge. Nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the proceedings and, amid immense or intense enthusiasm, or words to that effect, the programme was carried out at Winnemucca yesterday.

The 'editor of the Mammoth City Herald is evidently unwilling that the graces of his style should be overlooked. The following is from the last number of the Herald: "Snow and red noses, blue lips and overcoats, blustering winds and snow-shoes are things of the past, and it looks as though Summer had leaped at a single bound from her snowy couch to try and make amends for her long absence by breaking at once the chains of the Ice King. (How is that sentence for high?)"

The New York Tribune on Friday published tables showing that the third-term support comes from states which can only nominate, while the opposition comes from states which can alone elect. That is an unanswerable demonstration that if the representation in the National Republican Convention were based on the ratio of Republican votes, Grant would have no standing in the Chicago Convention—hardly enough to have his name appear among the "scattering" on the roll-call.

The last number of Harper's Bazar contains a picture showing the styles of ladies' collars that are to be "worn" this summer. One is turned down and hangs over the shoulders like the cape of a waterproof cloak. Another is a standing collar, with immense points in front reaching up to a level with the ears. The points have a formidable appearance, but are provided with holes by which they can be buttoned back on the ears when desired.

Denis Kearney has been discharged from custody, the Supreme Court having decided that he was illegally convicted. Kearney was sentenced for using vile language concerning a well-known citizen of San Francisco. The Supreme Court held that there was "a total failure to allege any cause of action," and that the prisoner was convicted for an act which is no crime under the existing laws, and therefore declared the judgment of the Police Court void.

Fred H. Hart of the Stock Report, passed through Reno this morning. He goes to Virginia city to take editorial charge of the Enterprise. Mr. Hart is a man of ability and will make things hum. We hope that in his new and important position at the head of Nevada's oldest paper, he will drop what may remain of old bitterness, and work with the rest of us for the good of the state.

Henry G. Hanks, State Mineralogist of California, has issued a circular explaining the objects of the State Mining Bureau created by an act of the last Legislature. He invites contributions of ores, mineral specimens, Indian relics, etc., which will be placed in the State Museum. The address of the Bureau is 313 Pine street, San Francisco.

Frank Page is willing to be still further sacrificed for the good of his congressional district. Mr. Page is the most influential member of the Pacific coast delegation, and can go to Congress as long as he wants to.

The New York Commercial Bulletin thinks that the course of the Pacific Coast merchants who are urging the licensing of commercial travelers, is narrow and short sighted. The whole thing is the incarnation of selfishness and provincialism, and is unworthy of the free air and the freemen of the Pacific.

Hot weather has set in early this season in New York. Thirty-two cases of sun stroke were reported in twenty-four hours.

There is an assessment of ten cents on Wells Fargo. It is notorious that the Company has no mine and that the stock is worthless.

Still another Swiss Canton has resolved to restore capital punishment for murder and incendiarism resulting in death.

Now that Killoch and Kearney are both let loose again, tall talk from the San-lot may be expected.

Does Grant still hope that the necessity for his nomination may not arise?

WILD FIRING.

A Kansas Man Trips to Kill an Editor and Shoots His Friend.

LEAVENWORTH, (Ks.), May 26.—Thomas C. Thurston, who killed his business partner, Mr. Embury, on the 1st of January last, and was acquitted about a month ago, met D. R. Anthony, editor of the Times, on Delaware street, this afternoon, and after passing him, turned and fired two shots at him, neither of which took effect. One shot, however, struck John P. Douglas, a young man employed in the Times office, making a severe scalp wound, and the other struck L. Baker, a lawyer, who was standing on the sidewalk about 600 feet away, in the left side about two inches below the nipple, and passed through his body, inflicting a wound at first thought to be mortal. Physicians now think he may recover. Mr. Baker is a prominent attorney who defended Thurston and cleared him when he was tried for murdering Embury. The affair created great excitement, and the officers were obliged to secrete Thurston to prevent the people inflicting summary punishment upon him.

What a Grant Paper Says of Brother Blaine.

From the Burlington Hawkeye.

The profuseness with which Mr. Blaine's canvassers are lavishing money in all parts of the Union is exciting general remark. Mr. Sherman's agents in the South are reported as being as discouraged as they were astonished at the large amounts of money spent in the South in Mr. Blaine's interests. "Where I spent one dollar they spent a hundred," said a Sherman agent in Louisiana. We do not understand that it is charged that Mr. Blaine is spending the money corruptly nor in another than a legitimate manner, nor do we credit such a charge unless corroborated by the facts, but it is evident that the Blaine canvass is being pushed with a vigor and prodigality that is possible only with a very liberal bank account to draw upon.

A Cat Adopts a Rat.

A physician's cat in Wolcottville, Conn., has adopted a rat. Some weeks ago she lost her kittens, and a few days after she was seen playing with a half-grown rat, and further observation revealed that she had taken charge of its education. The rat played with the cat, came at her call, and followed her about like a kitten. One night the doctor took the rat from her, put it in a basket, covered the basket with a sieve, and placed a flat-iron on the sieve. But during the night the cat charged on the basket and carried off her pet, and probably hid it in the barn where she had got it.

A Fish Found in a Well.

The Red Bluff People's Cause says: There is an exhibition in this town a very peculiar fish, which was obtained from a well in the vicinity, to which it must have found its way by some subterranean passage. It is unlike any fresh water fish we know of, and would call it a species of smelt. It would be well shaped but for a large pouch on its under side, and possesses one dorsal, a pair of ventral and anal fins, and a pretty forked tail fin. The eyes are small, white and sightless, but the fish is very lively and spry.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Half an inch of ice in the streets of Bodie Tuesday night.

Huntsman's hotel at Battle Mountain will be rebuilt immediately.

On the Ostate ranch, Sonoma county, dog killed no less than nineteen sheep one night last week.

Capt. Sam and his braves danced a war-dance in the streets of Virginia on Thursday night. The dancers were nearly naked.

The Plumas National says: "There is a decided need for improvement in the management of some of the post-offices on the line from Quincy to Reno."

King county, Washington Territory, gives a bounty of $3 for black bears and $1 for wild-cats. Pierce county gives $4 for the former and $2 for the latter.

Mono lake water has been successfully experimented with as a substitute for salt and soda in milling, and it is said that somebody is going to take out a patent on the process.

Few pleasure-seekers have yet gone to Lake Tahoe, although it is said to be especially charming just now. Stages are running regularly from Carson, and the road from Truckee to the Lake is now open.

J. T. Murphy, a saloon keeper of North Bloomfield, Nevada county, has been convicted of assault with a deadly weapon on W. R. Burroughs, on the school grounds. The men had quarrelled over the sum of six bits.

The Castilian tells of a fatal accident which occurred on the St. Helena road last Monday. Charles Turner, driver of a quicksilver laden freight wagon, fell, and was run over, dying the same night. He was young and unmarried.

A drove of about 1,200 head of cattle arrived here yesterday, says the Winnemucca Silver State, and are to be loaded on the cars to-morrow for shipment to Nebraska. It will take two trains of 25 or 30 cars each to take them to the Platte Valley.

Pupils in the third grade of the Sacramento Grammar School made an unusual failure at the recent examination. Out of 53 pupils 41 were below 60 per cent. in arithmetic. Fifteen were condition. But ten were passed absolutely. The Board of Education are investigating the matter.

While Dr. Holdsworth, the veteran prospector, was coming down from Milton, Nevada county, the other day, he met a large-sized mountain lion in a narrow trail. The doctor was unarmed and the animal made a movement as if it was about to spring upon him, hesitated a moment, and then whirled and trotted off.

County Assessor Spires, of Lander, who has been out on the cattle ranches, informs the Reveille that many heavy stock-owners in Reese River Valley lost as much as fifty per cent. of their herds last Winter and this Spring. In riding through the canyons a dead animal can be seen every few yards, and sometimes two or three together.

The temporary withdrawal of one of the local freight trains between Carson and Reno says the Carson Times, throws six prominent railroad men out of employment. Their names are as follows: Conductor, J. B. Lawrence; engineer, Thomas Forsyth; fireman, Thomas Riley, and brakemen C. W. Thompson, W. H. Beekle and Chas. O'Harnett.

A Scotchman named Williamson was felling trees in the woods near Duncan's Mills last week. A tree came crashing to the earth, and in its fall struck Williamson a glancing blow on the breast that tore loose the cartilage from the breast bone. He lay helpless until found, and was taken to the Santa Rosa Hospital Saturday evening.

The Los Angeles Herald of May 25th says: About three weeks ago the camp of a sheepherder employed by J. B. Lankershim on the Alamo Rancho, was robbed and his cabin burned. Yesterday the shepherd returned to his camp, and while stooping over the spring someone fired at him, the ball passing through the back part of his leg just above the knee and lodging in his hand.

Carp ponds are being constructed near Bridgeport, Mono county.

The Carson Tribune says the stages to Bodie go back loaded to the hubs and come back empty.

A farmer named Burlison of Josephine county, Or., was thrown from his wagon one day last week and instantly killed.

White labor is to be employed on the Bodie road at the Mound House end. It is reported that Chinese will be hired on the other end.

A Cappelman of Santa Cruz, was erroneously reported killed, in the first account of the recent railroad accident. He was very little injured.

The Carson Times says the road between Carson and Glenbrook is now passable the entire distance, though there is much snow at Summit and beyond.

The Republican says that Dr. Coon, favorably known in Truckee as an impostor, has lost his commission as Grand Lecturer of the Champions of Honor.

A petrified bone, fifteen inches long and six inches thick, was dug out at Watsburg, Washington Territory, recently. It was imbedded in the ground fourteen feet.

The Bodie Standard tells of a man who located a ranch on a smooth field of snow in Mill Creek canyon, and when the snow disappeared found that he had fenced in a lake.

Says the Mono county Bentonian: Some of the oldest medicine men among the Benton Indians are quite confident in their predictions that winter will break about the last of June or the first of August.

The man who robbed the Murphys' and Milton stage a few days since has been arrested near Los Angeles, and Wells Fargo & Co.'s treasure box has been recovered. The road agent is a graduate from San Quentin.

A man named James Dargan was killed near the Pioche mine, Sierra county, last Thursday. While shopping snow near a bank twelve feet high, it slid and caught him on a log or stump, killing him quickly.

Mrs. P. Bonnetti of Sacramento committed suicide last Sunday night, in a fit of temporary insanity caused by grief at the loss of her husband. She leaves four small children, the youngest of which is about three years of age.

Bockhoff, the vitriol-thrower, of Sacramento, was sentenced on Tuesday last to eight years' imprisonment. Bockhoff is 58 years of age. He threw vitriol on his wife, his son and his daughter-in-law. All three, however, requested the mercy of the Court.

An enthusiastic New Mexican says: More gold dust was taken from Hillsboro placers in 1879 than from any other gold camp, hydraulic washings excepted, in New Mexico or Arizona. One claim alone hauled five loads of dirt per day four miles to water, and averaged over $70 for each six working days, or for the year over $37,000.

New Athletic Grounds for San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—An association of gentlemen have purchased the Bay District Park, on the Cliff House road, with the intention of devoting it to general athletic purposes. They will erect an amphitheater of elliptical form—the shorter axis being 550 feet, and the longer 750 feet—capable of seating about 100,000 people. A canal 75 feet wide, fed by an artesian well, will extend around the arena, inside of the seats, and be used for boat races, swimming matches, etc., while the arena itself will contain a track for pedestrians, base ball grounds, an archery range and other facilities for recreation. Work on the project will be commenced at an early day.

The Rock Ahead.

The New York Tribune has a pledge signed by 2,000 Republicans of that city that they will not vote for a third-term candidate if he is nominated. Similar papers, with large numbers of signatures to them, are extant in Cincinnati and Chicago. Is it not time that the Grant faction should perceive the rock upon which they are threatening to wreck the party—Baltimore American (Rep.)

A Case of Skin Grafting.

A boy fell into a vat of potash at Danielsonville, Mass., two years ago, and the skin of both legs was destroyed. A resort was had to skin grafting, and over 2,000 bits of outcure, from the boy's mother, the family coachman, and several accommodating neighbors, have been used. The result is completely successful.

THE CONT. ST AT CHICAGO.

The situation at Chicago yesterday seems still more unfavorable to Grant's chances of being nominated than it was Tuesday. The Anti-Grant men have been victorious at every point so far. The Committee of Arrangements, composed exclusively of Grant men, has been displaced, and is the new committee the opposition are in the majority. The opponents of Grant have named the temporary chairman, George F. Hoar. The enforcement of the unit rule has been left for the Convention to decide, and there is little likelihood that it will be enforced. It was upon the operation of this rule that Grant's chances of success have been held to lie. The defection of twenty-three of the Pennsylvania and twenty-two of the New York delegates from the ranks of the ex-President seems disastrous to his hopes.

Sherman seems to be the candidate who is growing most in strength. In the event of Grant's defeat, which now seems probable, his partisans are expected to combine for the defeat of Blaine. The Blaine men are unlikely to give their support to Washburne, owing to his friendly attitude towards Grant, and the majority of them will probably go for Sherman.

The adjournment of the Convention until eleven o'clock to-day makes it unlikely that the choice of a candidate will be made before Friday. No one knows what a day may bring forth in a political convention, but at the time of the present writing both the Grant and Blaine "columns" seem too weak to build a nomination upon.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The last number of the Paradise Reporter makes this very plain announcement: "Two men have been busted out trying to run this paper on wind. With the examples of our predecessors staring us in the face, we shall make no further experiment of the wind process. If the people want a paper they must support it; if they want to do this, then we shall be compelled to close the shebang. We have to buy paper and pay a printer, and we can't do this on nothing."

A number of clergymen in New York Sunday, by previous agreement, offered up prayers to God that He might guide and direct the choice of a President in the Chicago Convention. In the work of National Conventions the hoof of the devil is easier to detect than the finger of God, and while the unit rule holds good, it is hard to see how the prayers of the well-meaning clergymen can affect the Presidential nomination.

The editor of the Lake County Examiner (Democratic) begins a three-column article on "Depraved Journalism" in a very moderate tone. Near the foot of the second column he has occasion to refer to the editor of a local contemporary (Republican), and launches out as follows: "He is a political mendicant lapping at the sores of any Lazarus which the State Central Committee may nominate."

The latest figures from Chicago are as follows: The Blaine estimate: for Blaine 324; for Grant 276; for Sherman 101; for Edmunds 32; for Washburne 11. The Grant estimate: for Grant 411; for Blaine 169; for Sherman 103; for Edmunds 25; for Washburne 13. The Sherman estimate gives him 227 votes. But figures are often very deceptive, in spite of the proverb to the contrary, as these conflicting estimates show.

While every day brings news of fresh defections from the ranks of the Grant men, Blaine's chances seem also to constantly decline. He was practically figured out of the race ten days ago. Sherman is growing in strength as the second choice of the Grant men. Washburne is the second choice of many delegates.

Manslaughter appears to be of frequent occurrence at Buena Vista. A late dispatch from there says: "Early this morning two men, James Reed and James Edwards, instantly killed each other. They had some trouble and upon meeting both drew revolvers and fired two shots at each other, when both fell dead."

When General Butler arrived at Sacramento the depot was crowded with people eager to see him. He spoke there Monday evening. He told a reporter that if any one desired his legal services they could be had, but that he did not come to the coast on legal business.

The office dog of the Republican was "canned" the other day, and his efforts to free himself made merry the hearts of the Truckee youth. The new editor of the Republican mildly excepts to this treatment of his favorite but so long as he escapes being canned himself he should not complain.

The Democratic State Convention of South Carolina met Tuesday, J. S. Cathen presiding. Senators Wade Hampton and M. C. Butler, Major F. G. Barber and John Bratton were elected delegates at large to Cincinnati.

Harper's Weekly has "no doubt that the nomination of Grant and Tilden by the two parties would result in a third nomination, with all the uncertainties that would necessarily follow. The probability of Mr. Tilden's nomination is very great."

Monterey will be the fashionable sea-side resort of the Pacific this year. It has a magnificent new hotel and is easily accessible from San Francisco. Two through trains are run daily. The distance from the city is 125 miles and the trip is made in three hours and forty minutes.

A rupture between Speaker Randall and "Bar" Tilden is reported. It is said that Randall has Presidential aspirations and has opened a keg of money to forward his own cause. Hence the falling out between him and Tilden.

The Pacific coast delegates to Chicago have consolidated for united action upon the Chinese question. They will endeavor to have an anti-Chinese plank inserted in the Republican platform.

"Poetical Professor Plummer's Pungent Pleasantries" is the heading of a local in a Rawlins, Wyoming, paper, and lets us know that the veteran elocutionist is still on his travels.

Reports from the Skagit mines are discouraging. There is little in them, and the stories of their richness were put in circulation by interested parties. The Skagit bubble has burst.

Gen. Grant has the good taste not to attend the Chicago Convention. He has gone with his wife to Dubuque, Iowa, where he will remain until after the Convention adjourns.

The Fourth of July comes on Sunday this year, and will be publicly celebrated on the fifth. But doubtless many will celebrate both the fourth and fifth.

The highest British court has recently dismissed a libel suit because the defendant, in writing the alleged libel, had stated what he believed to be true.

It was reported in Virginia on Saturday that George Daly, late of Bodie, had been killed at Leadville. The report lacks confirmation.

The Maine Democratic State Convention met Tuesday. Resolutions demand the full operations of the mints to coin silver.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, the much admired but little read philosopher of New England, has passed his seventy-seventh birthday.

The San Jose Mercury considers the re-election of Senator Booth of California as hardly within the range of probability.

It is said that Longfellow has written a political poem to appear this week, entitled "The Cooking of the Crow."

Senator Edmunds absolutely declines to be put in nomination at Chicago. This will add to Sherman's score.

What was recently called a great find of rich quartz near Bodie, turns out to be micaceous and worthless.

Miss Frankie Ollendorf of Red Bluff was thrown from her saddle-horse and severely injured, on Friday last.

At Sacramento early Sunday morning a gale blew down some trees and unroofed a number of light outbuildings.

Straw hats and linen coats predominate in Nevada city, but nine miles east of that place, at Cascade diggings, the snow is three feet deep.

The body of a Chinaman, cut into four sections, was found near Stockton last week. The murder is supposed to have been committed by Chinese.

Last Friday afternoon, when the school at the First Ward, Virginia, was out, two youths of tender age tried to settle a dispute with a pistol and bowie-knife, but were stopped.

Work on the Carson and Candelaria Narrow-gauge Railroad was commenced last Monday at points between the Mound House and Dayton. The wages paid are $1 per day and board.

Professor G. K. Godfrey of Cedarville, Modoc county, died last Thursday and his remains were taken to Sacramento for interment, under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. fraternity.

At Battle Mountain last Wednesday night, a tramp who had been guilty of various heathly practices, was taken out of jail by a crowd of men and given a coat of tar and feathers.

Last week, at Washington, Yolo county, a lad named Buchanan was drowned in a large water-hole near town. A few years ago his elder brother was drowned in the same place.

The Chico Enterprise tells of a calf lately born on General Bidwell's place, which has only two legs, the fore legs being only rudimentary. The animal is flourishing, but finds considerable trouble in traveling.

The Mountain Democrat says that the Placer Gold Quartz Mining Company kept a force steadily at work over a year before a pound of rock was worked, and nearly two years before they built a mill, but the result was a three years' supply of ore in sight for twenty stamps.

A correspondent of the Scientific American, writing from Colorado, says that there is much need in those parts of a portable steam drill for prospecting. Its weight should not exceed 150 pounds and it should not cost over $200. The machine should be capable of drilling granite to a depth of fifty feet, making a bore three-eighths to three-fourths of an inch in diameter.

Good Story of a Jackass. From the San Antonio Herald.

A vagrant ass stood beside the track of the Sunset railway at the depot a few mornings ago, an engine moved slowly up; it stopped within a few feet of the ass, the engineer blew one of those terrible screams, prolonged and piercing; such a blast as makes a Millerite dream of the day of judgment. Did the ass care? Not much! Did he shake the sloth from his limbs, erect his tail and speed away like the asses of Bassorah, faster than the Bodouin courier, run back to the chapparral? No, he didn't. He turned one ear toward the engine just as a deaf man uses his tin ear-trumpet, and caught every particle of the sound. And when the steamblown whistle stopped its notes, and all the echoes died away, the animal straightened out his neck, opened his mouth, and in a voice that defied all the railroad men and caused the freight clerk to drop his pen, roared: "I can't! I can't! I can't! I can't be beat! I can't be beat! I can't be-be-be-be-beat!"

The Miners' Strike at Leadville Ended. DENVER, Col., May 2.—A News Leadville special says: It is the general impression that the strike is virtually ended, and that by the middle of next week work will be resumed on all the suspended mines. The Little Chief will resume work at the old rates and with the old force on Monday, and it is said that the Iron and Chrysolite will do likewise. They are fully prepared for an attack, which is not likely to occur. In this morning's procession the number of men fell to 800. It is believed that all the mines resuming work will adopt the eight-hour rule and pay skilled miners $4 a day.

A Conscience-Stricken Doctor. SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—For five weeks Dr. Charles B. Chapman has been attending to Mrs. De Pas, of West Berkeley, who was afflicted with a tumor. His treatment was not successful, so yesterday he sent Mr. De Pas away for another doctor. When he returned Chapman was on the floor of the kitchen, wounded in the head from a shotgun and his throat cut. This note lay on the table: "Dr. Payne: I have killed Mrs. De Pas, and for this I will kill myself. Chapman." He will die from his wounds.

S. Colwell, while camping at the White House, twelve miles north of Harshaw, Arizona, was awakened on the night of May 15th by two bullet wounds in the back from a six-shooter, fired by a Mexican, who evidently intended murdering him for his personal effects. Colwell returned the fire, and succeeded in killing his assailant at the fourth shot.

SEVENTY MILES AN HOUR.

The Result of a Trial of Speed Over an American Railroad.

Chicago Times, April 30.

A good deal of discussion has been going on within the past few months as to the capabilities for high speed of the American locomotive, and understanding that a test of speed had been made on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway on Tuesday last by the officers while out on an inspecting trip, a Times reporter with some difficulty obtained the result of the trial.

Eight miles were run, the first two being used for reaching the high speed. Six miles were then run, timed by two stop-watches, and with the following result:

Miles	Seconds
First	55
Second	53
Third	52
Fourth	51
Fifth	50
Sixth	51 1/2

The above shows an average speed for the six miles of a small fraction less than seventy miles per hour, the highest speed obtained being seventy and three-fifths miles per hour.

The test was made with one coach, on the stone-ballasted track of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, about twenty-five miles east of Chicago. The engine was built at the Fort Wayne shops. It has a 17x24 inch cylinder, with five feet driving wheels, and is one of the standard passenger engines owned by the company. This test disproves the oft-repeated assertion that a speed of sixty miles per hour has never been exceeded by an American engine. The engineer on this occasion was William Jackson.

Courting Sixteen Hours a Day. John and George Bond, brothers, fell in love with Miss Whitney, the daughter of their landlady, at Denver. She cared very little for either, but encouraged both, and they became jealous of one another. George lost his position as clerk in a store, and had time to stay in the house with the girl. John immediately abandoned work, so as to keep even with his rival. They courted Miss Whitney, she testified, about sixteen hours a day. Then she jilted them, and engaged herself to marry Mr. Smith. The brothers promptly combined to whip Mr. Smith half to death, and that was what made the matter public in the police court.

An Estate Worth $30,000,000. According to the Chronicle there is trouble over the estate of the late Mark Hopkins. It is supposed that it is as present worth $30,000,000. Samuel F. Hopkins, of St. Clair, Mich., prays for the removal of the widow as administratrix and the distribution of all the property, claiming that there is much still undivided, and that additional shares of C. P. R. stock, valued at a considerable sum, fell to the estate after the death of Mark Hopkins, and have not yet been distributed.

Washington Territory Over-Crowded. From the Adin Hawkeye.

A wagon load of emigrants from Walla Walla, passed through town last Friday en route for the lower country. They report that about one-half of the immigration to Washington Territory last year, will return as soon as they can find the means to do so. The country is over-crowded, and all the best land occupied.

A Friend With a Madonna Face. The Toledo Babies' Home was not so much a home as a place for dying in. It was found that twenty-five out of a hundred of the inmates had perished from ill treatment. The woman who conducted it had a face like a Madonna, and was very successful in getting money from the benevolent. She is to be tried on a charge of manslaughter.

A Water Spout in Santa Monica. LOS ANGELES, May 28.—At half past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a furious stream of water two feet deep came rushing down the dry canyon at Santa Monica, where no water has appeared in six weeks. There was no snow in the canyon, and not a cloud in the sky at the time of the phenomenon.

A One-Pound Baby. A boy child was born in Oakland last Thursday whose weight is sixteen ounces. It is quite a curiosity. It is lively and healthy. The body is ten and one-half inches long and the head is as large as an ordinary orange. Its legs are not larger than a man's middle finger.

Princely Munificence. A prominent Auburn grocer gave his washerwoman a bar of soap as a reward for returning $3,000 she had found in one of his garments.

Says the Santa Barbara Independent: J. C. Riley has left upon our table a meteorite, which he picked up in front of his house on Thursday morning of last week, which is supposed to have fallen on the night previous. The substance is composed of lead and silver, and weighs six pounds, and when found was partly imbedded in the ground, which was as hard as our streets. An assay of the metal reveals $1,200 of silver to the ton.

THE CENSUS.

The Enumeration to Begin To-morrow All Over the United States—The System to be Pursued—A Misdemeanor to Refuse to Answer Questions—Ladies Must Tell Their Age.

The taking of the tenth census will begin to-morrow, June 1st. The law requires that in all cities having more than 10,000 population the enumeration shall be completed within two weeks from date. It is made the duty of each enumerator to personally visit each dwelling and family therein and each individual living out of the family in any place of abode, and by inquiry made of the head of the family, or the member thereof deemed most credible and worthy of trust, or of such individual living out of the family, to obtain each and every item of information required by the Acts of March 3, 1879, and April 20, 1880. It is the object of the enumeration to obtain the name and the requisite particulars as to personal description of every person in the United States, of whatever age, color, sex, race or condition, and whoseever, being over twenty years of age, shall refuse to give such information, shall be guilty of misdemeanor. Some discretion is allowed to enumerators as to acceptance of answers which he has reason to believe are false, and in such cases he will ascertain as nearly as possible from observation or inquiry from credible persons. This is of special importance respecting the statements of heads of families, concerning afflicted members of families, and the statement of values produced, in which concealment or exaggeration is suspected.

There are five schedules for the enumeration of the subjects of census inquiry. The first relates to population, and upon it is to be entered the name of each person in the house on June 1st, 1880; the color; white, black, mulatto, Chinaman or Indian; age; on last birthday; relationship of each person in the house to the head of the family, whether wife, son, daughter, servant or boarder; whether single, married, widowed or divorced; occupation or trade of each person, male, or female; number of months each person has been employed from June 1, 1880, to June 1, 1880; if persons are sick, whether blind, deaf, idiot, insane, married, crippled or bedridden; what caused the sickness, and where the ailment or disability was contracted; whether the person can read or write; place of birth, what state or territory or foreign country, with place of birth of both father and mother.

The second deals with all kinds of agricultural statistics, and the third with manufactures; but in all cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants, the data concerning the latter branch will be collected by agents unconnected with the district. The fourth relates to social statistics and the fifth to mortality, exhibiting the names of persons who died in the census year—personal description, age on last birthday, sex, color (white, black, mulatto, Chinese or Indian); married, single, widowed or divorced; cause of death, name of physician who attended deceased, and where the disease causing death was contracted. There are seven special and other schedules. The first for insane; the second for idiots, third for deaf mutes; fourth for blind; fifth for homeless children; sixth for inhabitants in prison; seventh for paupers and indigent persons in institutions.

A GOAT STORY.

The Famous Item About The Consumption of Circus Posters By a Connecticut Goat.

From The New York Sun.

STRATFORD, CONN., May 21.—One of the most interesting things, or aggregations of things, in the world is a circus. This fact is acknowledged by the world generally, and in the literature of circus posters in particular, and is appreciated by such men as ex-Gov. Hayes and Dr. Talmage. Hardly less interesting than a circus is a goat. It follows, therefore, that if a circus and a goat be made to figure in the same event, or train of events, the result must be among the most interesting that can be reached, and that if such result be stated in a newspaper item, it must be among the most interesting of items.

Such must have been the course of reasoning by which the resident correspondent in Stratford of a Connecticut daily newspaper brought himself to the point of writing an item which in substance was as follows: A Stratford man's goat devoured some circus posters and died, whereupon the man sued the circus men for the value of his goat, and the circus men sued him for the value of their posters. This item was printed in an obscure part of the paper, but it blazed out like a comet across the sky when the myriads of stars are made to disappear, and the heavens to look black by comparison with its effulgence. There was no computing the magnitude of such an item in respect to its suggestions.

Regarded from the standpoint of the partisans of the goat: A creature that had survived the winter and come out spring poor, strolled along the highway, his nodding head keeping time to the rattle of oyster cans and pop bottles within him; gazing upward and outward on either side, as is the habit of the goat, he saw the tender green and luscious red of the spring show bill, and standing on his hind legs he inserted a horn beneath the paper and stripped it from the bill board; then he fell to feeding upon the succulent circus poster, and when he had filled himself he lay down, and the sharp corners of the oyster cans and the broken bottles were padded by the soft paper so that they did not protrude through his sides; but soon there came a misery within him, and he ceased to be.

Regarded from the other standpoint: A predatory goat having gorged himself on those forms of nutriment which are to his taste, actuated by no other motive than pure malice, attacks and devours works of art; the Albino woman, the fair trapezist, and she who describes the circle of the horizon with one great toe while poisoning herself on the back of an untamed Arabian steed with the other, in quick succession disappear into his capacious maw. Swift retribution overtakes him, but that does not compensate for the setback that high art has suffered, and damages are demanded from the owner of the goat.

These and countless other features of the case were sure to come out in the trials of the two suits; and, with the view of bringing them out sooner, at least three New York newspapers sent reporters to Stratford. The results of their labors may be summarized as follows: The goat is an unknown animal in Stratford; there has been no circus in Stratford this season; the goat-circus story was a fabrication; the resident correspondent from whom it emanated has received a very special and solemn warning never to do so again; he has given his word of honor as a gentleman, a scholar, and an admirer of goats and circuses that he won't.

The Old Bended Pin.

From the American Queen.

How dear to my heart is the school I attended
And how I remember, so distant and dim,
The red-headed Billy and the pin that I bended
And gratefully put on the bench under him!
And I recall the surprise of the master,
When Bill gave a yell and sprung up with the pin
So high that that his bullet-head busted the plaster
Above, and the scholars all set up a grin!
That active boy Billy, that high-leaping Billy!
That loud-shouting Billy that sat on a pin!

Coaxed Into Bkamy.

A demure, diminutive girl, aged 18, is under arrest in Philadelphia for bigamy. She has three living husbands, all of whom she has married within two years. When asked why she had done this, she said: "They were all good fellows, and they coaxed me so."

A Refractory Husband Killed.

Robinson Warren, of St. Clairsville, Ohio, had always been so submissive under the domination of his wife, that when he nerved himself to protest against her clubbing his child, she furiously caught up a handy revolver and killed him.

Sentenced to ten Years.

NAPA, June 1.—John Crowley, convicted of murder in the Superior court of this county last month, was today sentenced to ten years in the State Prison. Counsel for defense took exceptions and will carry the case to the Supreme Court.

Wife-Beating and a Brutal Assault.

Correspondence Nevada Transcript.

One day last week, at Empire Flat, near French Corral, Nevada county, a man was engaged in the pleasant pastime of beating his wife, not having the fear of Roach's wife-beating law before his eyes. A French doctor hearing the woman's screams, went to her assistance. He was warned to keep out of the premises, but being chivalrous and in a drunken condition, he armed himself with a sword or stiletto and went into the yard in front of the house apparently with the intention of rescuing the woman from the hands of the brutal husband. The infuriated wife-beater turned on the doctor with a large rock and beat his face and head to a jelly. The doctor is now lying in a precarious condition and may die at any moment. The wife-beater fled the country.

A Remarkable Marriage for Love.

Arthur Cole Hill was in the Hudson Bay Company's employ, and held a position of considerable responsibility, in Manitoba. He was an Englishman of education and intelligence, and 50 years old. He fell in love with an Indian girl, married her, abandoned the little civilization to be found in that region, and lived in a wigwam with his wife. During five years he was practically a member of her tribe, leading their rude life, and hardly ever seeing a white man. He died recently. To a former white companion he said that his marriage had been exceedingly happy, and that he had never desired to leave his savage surroundings.

A Sharp Earthquake Shock.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 31.—A heavy shock of earthquake occurred here at 6 o'clock this morning, doing no damage, but throwing books and articles from shelves in several cases. It was preceded by a heavy rumbling noise, and lasted about 15 seconds, followed after an interval of five minutes by another slight shock.

SANTA ROSA, May 31.—A sharp shock of earthquake was felt between here and Sonoma about 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

A Typographical Error.

A newspaper biographer, trying to say his subject "was hardly able to bear the demise of his wife," was made by the inexorable printer to say, "wear the chemise of his wife."

Last Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Henderson of Santa Clara, wife of ex-Postmaster Henderson, met with a singular accident, which resulted fatally on Thursday evening. The lady was 80 years of age, and had been confined to her bed for some weeks. She was left alone for a while and when found was lying on the floor, with one of her legs broken, the effect of which caused her death.

The people of San Pedro and Wilmington were surprised last Friday morning by the appearance in immense numbers of a small black winged insect, in shape like a weevil, but no larger than a small ant. They fell on the ground until they could be scraped up by the handful.

FROM CANDELARIA.

The Return of the Reno Expedition from the Mines of the South.

It was no slow coach, but a rattling four-in-hand and a thoroughbred wagon that pulled out of Reno on the morning of Wednesday, May 12, with a band of adventurous spirits whose destination was Candelaria. The party consisted of Dr. Lewis, John F. Myers, B. F. Bacon, George Jamison and J. M. White. At Wadsworth Jake Lewis reinforced the expedition. On Thursday morning a start was made from Wadsworth to Candelaria direct. That night the party camped at Big Adobe on the Carson river. Candelaria was reached Monday morning, four days after leaving Wadsworth. The distance is about 135 miles and the road good all the way. The sand is pretty deep in places, but the road is generally level. After leaving Sulphur Springs, water must either be carried, or purchased at stopping places along the way.

THE TOWN OF BELLVILLE contains from eighty to 100 houses. It is kept up by the milling of Northern Belle ore. The mine is at Candelaria and the ore is hauled seven miles to Bellville. The Northern Belle company will not do any custom work at their mill. One of the travelers says that the general prospects of the Northern Belle are not flattering. The business of Bellville appeared dull.

CANDELARIA has about 100 houses but no hotel. Its population is probably about 500. The mines show excellent prospects. There is no mill in the place and none can be erected until the camp has an abundant supply of water brought in. All the water now used in the place has to be hauled four miles in barrels. The water that comes from Columbus is sold at four cents per gallon and smells bad when a day old. Rock Spring water is clear and pure and commands five cents a gallon. It cost the party

$2 A BARREL FOR WATER for their horses during their stay in Candelaria, and the horses would empty a barrel a day. The bills for water drank by the members of the expedition were, however, light. They felt that they could not afford to drink much water at five cents the gallon. Bathing is not largely indulged in by the inhabitants of Candelaria. Baths are $1 50 each. Water can be ditched and flumed from mountains 32 miles away, in abundance for all purposes. The estimated cost of the contemplated water works is about $300,000. Nothing definite has yet been done in the matter, although the mining developments appear to warrant the outlay. There had been

A FLOUR FAMINE in the place a week before the arrival of the Reno party, but happily a new supply had been received in advance of their coming, sufficient to satisfy the ravenous hunger of the miners. Had provisions not have arrived in time the expedition would probably have lost its bacon. It takes fifteen days for freight teams to make the trip from Wadsworth. Freight is two and five-eighths cents per pound. Hay in Candelaria is worth $6 a bale, or about $50 a ton. Wood sells for $20 the cord. A stay of two days in Candelaria enabled the party to see the most remarkable objects of interest in the town, and on Wednesday noon they drove out of the place.

ON THE WAY TO BODIE. That famous camp was reached at 5 P. M. on Friday. The party unite in pronouncing Bodie the worst smelling and filthiest place they ever saw—mud in the streets up to the hubs of the wagon, no drainage and the ground saturated with sewerage matter. They think the place will be visited by a pestilence should hot weather come on. They remained there only 24 hours. The trip home was made via Virginia, Gold Hill and Silver City. White and Jake Lewis remained in Candelaria on business. Jake Lewis' brother Charles took his place and came to Reno with the party. Of all the places visited the party declare RENO IS THE LIVELIEST. They believe there is more business done here in proportion to the population than in any of the new and much advertised mining camps. They all come back feeling greatly improved in health and spirits. Each gained something in weight, and all have a hearty, rugged look. They camped out all the time, and cooked their own meals. It must have been a picturesque sight to see them eating fat bacon and flapjacks around the camp fire.

Station for Sale. E. J. Curtis advertises his station and ranche in Carson Valley for sale. He has a nice house, good water, etc., which he will sell cheap. The property is twelve miles from Carson on the Bodie road, and is to be had at a bargain.

COLORADO'S CAMPS.

The Excitement Over Roaring Fork District—Highland and Hunter's Creek Districts—Rich Ore and Excellent Developments—A New Colorado Town.

From Our Own Correspondent. The famous Roaring Fork mining district, which is the centre of the spring excitement here in Colorado, is located about thirty-five miles west of Leadville, as the crow flies. The topography of the country is not dissimilar to that around Leadville, only it is not so abrupt, the mountain slopes being more gradual. The district is about 3,500 feet lower than Leadville, and it abounds in timber of the best quality. Pine and spruce grow to large dimensions, and furnish fine, solid lumber when cut. There are also many aspen trees, cottonwood, and oak brush, while ferns and rushes grow luxuriantly. The valley of the Roaring Fork varies in width from one-half to three miles in the mining district, and the entire valley is susceptible of cultivation for cereals and vegetables of various kinds. The outcropping rock is mostly red sandstone and limestone. The indications for mineral are very flattering all over the district. The Highland and Hunter's Creek district have some very fine mines. In the former, the mineral shows right in the face of the bluff. Masses of bright, pay argentiferous galena are exposed to view, in some instances fifteen feet across and twenty-two feet in height. It is probable that the entire face of the cliff will disclose similar mineral. Not more than 500 yards from this body of galena, FISURE VEINS HAVE BEEN FOUND, some of which have the pay streak opened six inches in width, that contain gray copper ore running high in silver. At the Highland camp, further above, carbonates are found in abundance. Stevens & Lister have thirteen claims, all in good bodies of mineral ore, especially the "Camp Bird," which has developed a 10-foot body of carbonates, running from 90 to 300 ounces in silver. The Leadville and Roaring Fork Mining and Prospecting Company also have developed some fine property. Two of their claims in particular have fine breasts of mineral exposed, viz., the Maukato and Louis B. Across the Roaring Fork, on the north, adjacent to Hunter's creek, the mines show unusually well in lead. The famous Smuggler averages 90 per cent in this valuable associate metal, so necessary to the process of smelting. The section lying along the foothills of the Sagnache range, toward the west, and along Woody river is at present being prospected successfully. A number of good strikes are reported, and others will undoubtedly follow. With regard to prospecting the country has hardly been touched. Below Maroon creek and down the Roaring Fork as far as Ten Mile, it is a good mineral country, and among the Maroon mountains, on the south side of Roaring Fork, the prospector will find ample and remunerative fields for his labor.

THE CLIMATIC CHARACTERISTICS of Roaring Fork are very different from Leadville. In the latter the atmosphere is keen and cutting; in the former mild and balmy. In the former it act upon the skin like a camel hair brush, in the latter like a dull razor. The atmosphere is dry and pleasant, tempered by the warm breeze of the Pacific slope. The new town of this promising mining Eldorado is called Roaring Fork City. The promoters of this enterprise are such men as Lieut. Gov. H. A. Tabor, Dr. A. A. Smith, postmaster of Leadville, and others like them. They sent a large party in mid winter over the range to survey and lay out a town site on the ground lying between Maroon and Cattle creeks. There is but one opinion with regard to the eligibility of this piece of property, which comprises 640 acres—two-thirds of it occupies the broad and level portion of the valley, while the other third consists of an upper bench or ridge, well defined and backed by the Maroon mountains. In the central portion of the town a public square has been laid off which, in honor of the Lieutenant Governor, has been styled Tabor Square, and something over 1,000 lots have already been sold to the merchants and business men of Leadville who intend establishing branch houses over there. If the mineral pans out in the Roaring Fork district to justify the expectations of its friends, a city of 10,000 people will spring up between Maroon and Cattle creeks before snow flies.

A Tramp's Curiosity Satisfied. A tramp named Thomas Rose picked up a railroad torpedo near Truckee last Saturday, and tried to break it open, out of curiosity. It exploded, mangle his face frightfully, and sending a piece of metal into his head. The wound is probably fatal. Rose was sent to Sacramento, where he has relatives.

INDIAN DANCING.

The Red Men's Ball on the Flat by the River.

There was a large gathering of Indians Tuesday night on the flat bordering the south side of the river above the dam. They were mostly Washoes and had assembled for the annual spring dance, before going to their summer camping grounds. The dance commenced about 8 o'clock. Half a dozen redskins joined hands and formed a circle, standing close together. A slow, monotonous chant was commenced, the singers keeping time by jumping up and down with a sidling motion, gradually swinging around the circle from right to left. The circle gradually enlarged by frequent accessions, and in the course of an hour nearly a hundred Indians were dancing. Occasionally a pause would be made and when dancing was resumed the words of the chant would change. For ten or fifteen minutes there would be a constant repetition of what sounded like "hay enough, hay enough." Then would be repeated for as long a time, a phrase resembling "come in here, come in here." As the dance lasted until a very late hour, the words might, if strung together, make a lengthy song. The curious up-and-down motion of the dancers seemed ludicrous enough to a number of visitors who went over from the town to witness the spectacle. Some of them joined in the Indian ring and mastered the intricacies of the "step." It is proposed to call the "Washoe" at the next hop in town.

Two Men Drowned in the River. During the recent flood, a young man named Vining, who was farming on the south side of the Truckee river, attempted to cross to the north side with a two horse team. He was swept away with his team and drowned. Neither his body nor the horses and wagon have been recovered. The accident has been known to very few people. It occurred in the canyon near Mrs. Biddleman's ranch, not far from Wadsworth. Last Monday two Italians tried to cross the river in a boat near the locality of the former accident. The boat was in some way made fast to a rock. In midstream the rope parted and the boat was overturned. Andrea Guisani managed to reach the shore in safety, but Louis (surname unknown) was borne down by the current and disappeared. His body has not been recovered.

Coroner Jones learned from a GAZETTE reporter Saturday, for the first time, something about the loss of these men. No notice of either death had been given him.

A Wife Saves Her Husband from Crazy Grave.

J. L. Crow informs a GAZETTE reporter that R. L. Squires had a narrow escape from drowning in Indian Creek, Plumas county, Cal., one day last week. The creek is very swift, and for some distance was choked with drift-wood, below which the water ran. Mr. Squires was standing at the head of the drift, engaged in pulling wood out of the creek. He fell in, and was carried by the rapidity of the torrent beneath the mass of the accumulated drift. After what seemed to him to be hours of submersion he came to the surface some distance down the stream, below the jam. His wife had noticed his disappearance, and not wishing to be left a widow, seized a pole and rushed to the rescue. She reached the river's brink just in time to twist the pole into the flowing locks of her expiring husband, and drag him to the shore. He considers it "a close call."

No Chinese Need Apply.

Relative to the employment of Chinese on the new Bodie railroad, the Carson Appeal says: Not long ago 150 coolies were offered at $35 a month by Joseph Cowan, a special officer in Chinatown. It is creditable to Mr. Yerington that although he was paying boys $2 a day he refused the coolie labor. There is a good deal of work on a railroad that boys can do and they should be encouraged. The workmen on the new road will all be white.

Death of Paul Morrill—Kalloch's Case Dismissed.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE. SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Paul Morrill, late proprietor of the Sacramento Union, a naval officer of this port, died this morning.

The Superior Court this morning sustained the general demurrer of Kalloch against the impeachment proceedings by the Board of Supervisors, and dismissed the case.

A Libel on Reno Clergymen.

This is from the Bodie Free Press: The tar-bucket is such a favorite article in Reno that the clergymen, in order to be popular with the best citizens, preach that there will be tar-buckets in heaven. Feathers in large quantities are known to exist, but the t. v. is only a supposition.

TOTAL DEPRAVITY.

Charles T. Pohl Outrages a Seven-Year-Old Girl at Gold Hill—The Community Aroused—Pohl's Father Threatens to Shoot Him—Talk of Lynching.

The town of Gold Hill was thrown into a state of intense excitement this forenoon, says the Virginia Chronicle of the 27th, by the news of a horrible crime committed by Chas. T. Pohl, a young man about 24 years of age, son of the well-known barber of Gold Hill. It has been discovered that young Pohl committed rape upon the person of a little girl named Birdie Ogg, the seven-year-old daughter of Simon Ogg, the livery stable keeper. It appears that on last Saturday afternoon several little children were playing about the house of L. T. Fox, which had just been vacated by the family, when the wretch Pohl enticed Birdie Ogg into one of the vacant rooms, and tying a handkerchief over her mouth, perpetrated the crime. By threats and promises he induced his little victim to say nothing about the outrage, and the commission of the crime was unknown to Mr. Ogg's family until yesterday afternoon, when it was discovered that the little girl was afflicted with a loathsome disease. She then told her father the whole story, and the justly infuriated man immediately began a search for the miscreant with the intention of killing him on sight. The fellow had fled, however, and kept himself out of Mr. Ogg's way.

THE BEAST CONFESSES. He was found late last night in Virginia City by officer Dan Sheehan of Gold Hill, and taken to that place before daylight. It is said that he confessed the crime to Sheehan and begged to be allowed to leave the country, fearing the consequences of popular rage at his frightful crime. As soon as the affair became known the citizens of Gold Hill were greatly excited, and the leading men of the town talked seriously of LYNCHING POHL. The young scoundrel's father was more indignant than any one else and was in a pitiful state of mind when he realized the enormity of his son's crime. He told Mr. Ogg that if he could find the boy he would shoot him and throw him down a shaft, and begged to be allowed to thus wipe out the disgrace brought upon his name by his depraved son. The officers with much difficulty prevented the citizens from putting their threats into execution and kept young Pohl carefully guarded until he could be brought into court. The mother of the little girl is lying very ill, and has not yet been informed of the frightful outrage.

THE CASE IN COURT.

The preliminary examination of Pohl is in progress this afternoon before Justice Flannigan with closed doors. Gold Hill is thoroughly aroused, and a great crowd surrounds the building where the examination is being held.

Work on Mining Claims.

Mr. Daggett says: "After consulting with the Land Commissioner, I find that he has formally decided that the work on a claim may be done at any time within the twelve months beginning with the 1st of January after the location has been made. Consequently locators have an entire year, together with the portion of the year preceding the 1st of January following the location, to do their first annual work. Hence, a claim located now (May 15, 1880) would hold good until January 1st, 1881, and January 1st, 1882, the work must be done. This is the interpretation given by the Attorney General, and may be accepted as the law."

A Most Complete Establishment.

Many persons, especially those living out of town, find it convenient to purchase all their household supplies at one place of business, thus saving a great deal of running about. S. Peyer has opened an establishment in Reno that exactly meets this want. Anything in the way of housefurnishing, from a mouse trap to a pair of blankets, can be bought at the new store, along with the family sack of flour, bag of beans and can of kerosene. His stock is large and makes an attractive display. Mr. Peyer is sure to receive a fair share of patronage.

Looking Out for Northern Trade.

Citizen here propose to shortly take some action in regard to the construction of a new road through to Lakeview, Oregon. Hammond & Wilson offer to furnish a team for the use of a party of delegates from Reno to go over the different routes, and decide which is most feasible. It is proposed to call a public meeting at which the matter may be discussed. A road is now building over the Lassen Pass. Some parties favor the Madeline Plains route. It is desired to ascertain which road would be most to the interests of Reno and best entitled to the support of our citizens.

MARIETTA LETTER.

Excellent Prospects and a Rivival Activity—Good Developments and High Grade Ore.

MARIETTA, Esmeralda Co., Nev., May 24, 1880. Editor Gazette:—In reply to yours of the 19th I will say our camp is looking better than for some time past and bids fair to regain some of its old time activity. The Endowment mine has a ten-stamp mill which is idle at present but expects to start soon. It is supplied from the Endowment mine, distant about 3 1/2 miles in the mountains. The Black Hawk mine, distant about as far, is taking out ore and shipping it to San Francisco. The ore is paying well, ranging from $600 to $900 per ton. They have a vein about 18 inches wide and are now down about 300 feet, from which level I send you a specimen of ore. The San Francisco Belle has struck a ledge, down about 38 feet, from 16 to 18 feet wide, which assays $59 to the ton. It has good hanging walls, and is considered the best strike in the camp. I send you a specimen, also copy of assay made at San Francisco. Wood is plenty in from three to five miles, and plenty of water can be found by going down 25 to 30 feet, also plenty of adobe for building purposes. Teal's salt marsh, 3 miles south, is in full operation and doing a good business.

FRANK WILSON.

THE KNIFE.

A Man Killed in a Row at Railroad.

The Elko Independent gives the following account of a fatal fight at Railroad: Tom Hanoum was in Stoker's saloon, drinking with some friends, when Cassidy entered and announced that he could mop the floor with any one in the room. Hanoum construed the language as applied directed to him and announced that he was prepared for the mopping process, and mildly intimated that he didn't care how soon it took place. Cassidy remarked that he wasn't "cheeled," when Hanoum threw back his coat to show that he had no weapons about him, and the row commenced. They had no sooner closed, when Hanoum drew a knife, and slashed Cassidy across the forehead. Cassidy then concentrated his efforts to get the knife away from his antagonist, and in the scuffle received a terrible wound, the knife entering just below the ribs, cutting a deep gash entirely across the abdomen. A messenger was at once dispatched to Elko for medical aid, and Dr. Huntington departed this morning in company with Deputy Sheriff Lowe. Hanoum was arrested and a preliminary examination will probably be held to-day.

A Birth on the Sidewalk.

Says the Virginia Enterprise: A Plute squaw was delivered of a child Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock on the sidewalk near the corner of D street and Sutton avenue. The little event only caused a halt of some ten minutes. A neighborly squaw wrapped the new born child in some rags, and taking it in her arms started off toward the eastern suburbs of the town, the mother arising and following.

Don't go to Leadville.

A correspondent writing from Leadville to an exchange says: "In all my experience in mining camps, from Montana to Arizona, I have never struck a place like Colorado, and Leadville in particular, for destitution and utter want. The labor market is overdone to an alarming extent, and where one man is at work twenty-five are idle. Thousands offer their services daily for grub money, and even then are unable to obtain work."

A Surprised Husband.

A newly married man of Nevada City returned to his home at a late hour one night recently and, entering quietly, surprised some one in bed with his wife. "Who in—are you?" "Come out of that, you husband. It was his mother-in-law, and she quickly let him know who she was and what she thought of his conduct.

A Heavy Failure.

A business man of Tuscarora, who has just returned from a visit to Elko, informed the Times-Review that M. P. Freeman's liabilities outside of all assets, will amount to $99,000, of which there are $63,000 in the county, and $36,000 due the Bank of California. Mr. Freeman left Elko yesterday morning for California, after turning over the property he owned in the county.

The Cutting Affray at Railroad.

Says the Elko Independent: Deputy Sheriff Lowe and Dr. Huntington returned from Railroad Thursday and inform us that the cutting affray between Tom Hanoum and J. P. Cassidy was greatly exaggerated. In the preliminary examination, yesterday, it was shown that Cassidy was the aggressor, and Hanoum was discharged from custody. The wounded man will recover.

Castoria

Millions of Mothers express their delight over Castoria. It is nature's remedy for assimilating the food. Unlike Castor Oil, it is pleasant to take, and unlike Morphine Syrup, it is harmless. Castoria regulates the bowels, destroys Worms, Cures and allays Feverishness. What gives health to the child, promotes rest for the Mother. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. It is the most reliable, effective and popular article dispensed by Druggists.

NEVER

Since Healing remedies have been used by

has there been known such absolute Pain-reducing agents as the

CENTAUR LINIMENTS.

They soothe, heal, and cure. They HEAL—Cuts, Wounds, Galls, Old Sores, Bruises, and Sore Nipples.

CURE—Pain in the Neck, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Ear-Ache, Tetter, Pimples, Itch, Salt Rheum, and all Flesh, Bone and Muscle ailments of Animals.

SUBDUCE—Inflammation and Swellings;

RELIEVE—Boils, Felons, Ulcers, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup and Quinsy;

EXTRACT—Pain from Burns, Scalds, Stings, Frost-bites, Sprains and Bruises.

The experience of centuries has made the

CENTAUR

Liniments, the most speedy and effective curative agents for

MAN AND BEAST

the world has ever known. The Centaur

LINIMENTS

have relieved more bed-ridden Cripples; healed more frightful wounds, and saved more valuable animals than all other liniments, ointments, oils, extracts, plasters and so-called "pain killers" and

"skin cures" combined.

Physicians and Veterinary Surgeons endorse the Centaur Liniments: millions of men, women and children in all countries

use them, and Housekeepers, Farmers,

Planters, Travelers, Livermen, Teamsters

and Stock-growers, are their patrons. They are clean, they are handy, they are cheap, and they are reliable. There is no ache, pain, or swelling which they will not alleviate, subdue, or cure. Sold throughout

SUSANVILLE NEWS.

Horse Thieves in Jail—Diphtheria Again—Promise of a Good Fruit Crop, Etc.

From our own Correspondent.

Susanville, May 26, 1880.
Last Sunday Deputy Sheriff Jao. Canon, of Modoc county, brought to Susanville C. W. Heap, Tom Miles and Tom Sally, all residents of this place. They stole two horses at Horse Lake belonging to Joe Hale and Mrs. M. Heap, mother of C. W. Heap. They were captured near Canon City, Oregon, and are now meditating over their acts in the county jail. Mrs. Hale also had E. Said arrested as an accomplice of the others. He dwells with them. They have their trial today. Some parties broke into the house of James H. Harris of Madeline Plains and took a Winchester rifle, six-shooter, knife, bridle and pair of spurs. The worthies who grace our jail are supposed to be the thieves.

N. S. Hamilton, of this place, died after a long illness, Monday morning. The diphtheria has again made its appearance again, but in a mild form.

John D. Kelly, in scuffling, was thrown, and in falling broke his ankle last Friday.

Mr. Hayden, of your city, is here running the Advocate during the absence of Mr. Weed, who has gone north to attend the meeting of the Grand Council of the Champions of Honor.

Fruit trees are in full bloom, and promise a splendid crop. CANTON.

The Nevada Democratic Convention.

The following is an outline of the platform adopted by the Winnemucca Democratic Convention: The resolutions affirm devotion to the Union; deprecate all sectionalism; hold the Republican party responsible for the agitation of dead issues, and regard the preservation of local self-government as necessary to the perpetuation of the Republic; condemn the crimes against the ballot committed four years ago; oppose Chinese immigration and denounce the veto of the bill restricting it; favor equal taxation and equal protection to labor and capital and declare the right of State Legislatures to prevent discrimination by common carriers; declare the drift of the Republican party is toward an empire by the concentration of capital, an outrage upon the masses and an insult to the men who carried the guns in defense of our liberties; they declare for the maintenance of the public schools—the hope and pride of a free state; that the Democracy demand free and fair elections, and denounce all military interference with elections at the polls, and the great fraud by which R. B. Hayes was made President.

Another Friend for Reno.

Wm. Manson, Superintendent of the Greenville Iron Works, passed through here Saturday. He has been below buying pig iron and machinery. He has 100 tons of freight on the road which will be hauled from here by teams. He estimates that 1,000 tons of freight will go into Greenville alone this summer. He has heretofore shipped all his freight by way of Chico, which is fifteen miles nearer his foundry than Reno. He says the railroad company urged him to ship by way of Reno, even sending an agent to Greenville to influence business men. The rates they gave him are secret, but they are a little higher than those to Chico, but the roads are better this way and he prefers it. His freight amounts to 250 tons a year.

Charles Vining, the Drowned Man.

The man who was drowned in the Truckee river recently, in attempting to cross with a loaded team, was named Charles Vining. He was about thirty years of age and unmarried. For two years he had worked on Damar's ranch near town. For a year past Vining had been ranching on his own account at the old ford, about seven miles west of Wadsworth. His father and sister live on the ranch. The horses succeeded in swimming ashore.

Neither Vining's body nor that of the Italian drowned last Monday, has yet been recovered.

Railroad Meeting at Stockton.

Stockton, May 28.—A number of influential citizens assembled last night in the office of the Farmers' Union for the purpose of considering the proposed construction of the narrow-gauge road from Stockton to Bodie. After the subject had been discussed a committee was appointed to receive subscriptions for making a survey, so as to ascertain the most desirable route. Several of those present put their names down for $200 to raise a fund of $6,000 to $10,000 to make the survey.

Presence of Mind.

A narrow escape from being crippled was made by Ogilvie at Boca a day or two ago. He was standing on the carriage in McIntosh's saw mill when his foot slipped and was about to be crushed between the cogs when Green, the engineer, took in the situation and stopped the machinery. But for his presence of mind and quickness of motion, the foot would have been crushed. A fraction of a second would have done it.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

Watching a Large Flock in a Corral—Some of Their Peculiarities—The Cuddling of the Lamb—How Shepherds Deceive the Ewes in Certain Emergencies—Coyotes, Wild Cats and Snakes.

"Bah-ah-ah, ah-ah-ah, Rah-ah-ah." A chorus of such sounds arose from one of Lee's corrals about sundown Sunday. A novel and interesting spectacle was presented to the observer whom curiosity drew to the spot. Within the space of half an acre were enclosed 925 ewes with their 650 lambs. They had just been driven into the inclosure, and the lambs had, as they always do, availed themselves of the opportunity to indulge in a little frolic. Separating from the sheep they gathered in a flock by themselves and raced up and down the roadside, while the ewes were being driven into the corral. Hence it happened that each mother became separated from her offspring and hence this chorus from sheep and lambs bent upon finding each other though each should be compelled to search through all the flock. It was

A PLEASANT SIGHT to see these fifteen hundred creatures all in motion, and to watch the antics of the young lambs as they frolicked about among the bleating, anxious ewes. There were little white lambs only a few days old, and lambs of sturdy limb and brownish coat whose birth dated back to April, innocent-looking, timid lambs, and lambs in which the nature of the old Ram seemed strong. The lamb has been long regarded as the type of innocence and artlessness, yet there is a great deal of guile in the lamb. In watching these 650 lambs last evening their dishonesty and trickery were the characteristics most conspicuously displayed. Each of these young ones had a mother of its own in the flock. Every lamb knows its own ewe by her bleat and also by her scent. The ewe recognizes her young in the same way. Two hours after the flock had been corralled each lamb had found and was lying beside its mother. Now here is where

THE DECEITFULNESS OF THE LAMB was made manifest. Prompted by the demands of appetite, a lamb would boldly butt into the udder of a strange ewe and apply itself to the abstraction of nourishment with an air of being thoroughly at home and perfectly free from embarrassment. These frauds were always promptly detected, however, by the ewe, and the little woolly thief was quickly butted into a hasty flight. Very different was the reception accorded the lamb which had found its own mother. While the little creature satisfied its craving for milk the ewe would tenderly lick its fleece. The faces of sheep are not inexpressive, and close observation enables the herder to distinguish each animal in his flock. The look of contentment on the countenances of some and that of anxiety on others were plainly observable. The shepherds sometimes find it necessary to induce a sheep that has lost its lamb to adopt a lamb that has lost its mother. The bereaved parent will take no notice of the poor orphan until the herder puts in practice

AN INVARIABLY SUCCESSFUL ARTIFICE. He skins the dead lamb and ties the skin upon the orphan's back. The ewe's sense of smell is thus deceived and she, so to speak, takes the motherless lamb to her bosom. It is probable that she does not do this without some misgiving, because she does not recognize the bleat of the disguised lamb as that of her own offspring. She may remark, after the manner of the deluded patriarch in the scriptures, that the skin is her own lamb's skin, but the voice is another lamb's. It is likely that a distended udder helps to induce the sheep in such cases to always give the lamb the benefit of the doubt. Suppose, now, that 650 NAKED, UNMARKED BABIES were separated from their mothers. How different would be the state of affairs! Happy would be the mother that could be sure of her own child. What scenes would attend the reclamation of the infants! In many respects it is remarkable how much stronger are the perceptions of the lower animals over those of the human species. The flock above referred to are owned by J. S. Wilson. Out of a thousand ewes that he drove to Wilcox's last fall he lost only 75 during the winter. His lambs mostly came during the late storm, but he congratulates himself on a comparatively slight loss, as 650 lambs from 925 ewes is considered a good average. Mr. Wilson's flock were sheared a few days ago. The average clip was 2½ pounds to the fleece. This was rather light, but then his sheep were sheared late last fall.

THE POES OF THE FOLD.

He states that coyotes are numerous in the hills of this section; a few miles northwest of town Jack O'Brien is losing eight or ten lambs every night by coyotes. Wild cats are also troublesome and much bolder than coyotes. A cat will come right into a pen and carry off a lamb even after the herder has raised an alarm. One night not long ago a cat killed one of Mr. Wilson's lambs, but he drove the animal off and put strychnine in the carcass. He then retired a short distance and watched. The cat soon returned, ate some of the poisoned meat and laid down and died—to the intense satisfaction of the watcher. Mr. Wilson says that he has never lost a sheep from the bite of a rattlesnake. Yesterday his whole band passed over a rattler, but the serpent did not even coil. Last year he saw and killed only two snakes. The year preceding he killed twenty-two.

THE NEW WATER WORKS.

Everything Progressing Favorably and The Ditch All Right.

The work of connecting the new reservoir with the town is by no means a small job. About 4,200 feet of pipe is being soaked in a mixture of coal tar and asphaltum near the northern end of Virginia street. A tank thirty feet long and twenty-two inches deep, is kept filled with the compound. Heat is kept up by a fire under each end. A large cauldron of boiling tar, into which pieces of asphaltum are thrown, stands by. A large derrick is used to handle the pipe. Fourteen barrels of tar and two tons of asphaltum will be used. The pipe is of No. 14 iron and is thirteen inches at the top and 8½ at the lower end, opposite Allen Bragg's house. It will be laid with lap joints filled with lead—26 tons will be used. The pipe laid around town will be of cast iron one and a half inch thick. North of the track it will be six inches in diameter with screw joints, south it will be 5-inch pipe with flange and bolt joints. Water arrived at the reservoir Sunday, having been thirty-six hours in making its way down a distance of four miles.

The Stockton-Nevada Railroad.

The Stockton Herald of May 28 says, in reference to the projected railroad to Nevada: "In conversing with a member of the committee today, we learn that it is the purpose of the men interested in this movement to have a narrow gauge road constructed from Stockton eastward to the mountains, whether the road is ever pushed across to connect with the Bodie road or not. There are two routes over which, it is believed, narrow gauge roads would pay. One ending easterly through the eastern part of Stanislaus county and up Dry Creek to, or toward Sonora, and the other by a route further north extending through Linden to the Big Trees. The earnestness felt in the matter is indicated by the readiness with which the subscription list was started last evening, $1,200 being raised for the preliminary survey, by seven of the men present."

All The News From Ophir.

OPHIR CITY, May 29, 1880. Editor Gazette:—Last evening we had the pleasure of enjoying a social little dancing party at the residence of W. E. Price, given by C. E. Frauks, his superintendent and general business manager. The beauty and fashion of the Valley were in attendance, and a more enjoyable party I never experienced. We danced to good music and had fine calling. Mr. Frauks, genial gentleman that he is, exerted himself to have everything pass off happily.

The tailings mill of M. Yager had been closed down for several days, but again resumed work at 6 p. m. yesterday. From all accounts Mike is doing well. The farmers have all their grain in, and expect to reap a rich harvest. T. T.

Sudden Death of Robert Leeper.

A telegram was received here Sunday morning announcing the death of Robert Leeper, in Mason Valley Sunday, but giving no particulars. The news was a terrible shock to his family. Mr. Leeper leaves a wife and a number of adult sons and daughters. His son James is the youngest of the family. The deceased was a native of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania. In early life he moved to Ohio, thence to Nevada. He was widely known, and his death will be mourned by a large circle of friends. His remains were brought to Reno for burial.

Decay of the Teeth.

Arises from various causes, but principally it may be attributed to early neglect or the indiscriminate use of tooth powders and pastes, which give a momentary whiteness to the teeth while they corrode the enamel. The timely use of that delicate aromatic tooth-wash, FRAGRANT SOZODONT, will speedily arrest the progress of decay, harden the gums, and impart a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes those ravages which people sustain in their teeth from the use of sweet and acid articles. J. H. C. & W.

An Anecdote of Ben Butler.

A story is told of General Butler's sarcastic retort upon a Massachusetts judge, whom he was teasing for a ruling favorable to a cause he was defending in court. The judge got out of patience, at last, and somewhat testily exclaimed: "Mr Butler, what do you think I sit here for?" The General quietly shrugged his shoulders and replied: "The Court has me now."

THE BOLD BEN.

He Stands an Interview and Gives His Views on Matters Generally.

A GAZETTE reporter spent half an hour in General Butler's car Sunday morning, in pleasant conversation with the General, his son, B. I. Butler, Mr. Chadwick and Mr. Barrett. They expressed themselves as being very much pleased with the trip. They say they never had better service in their lives. Mr. Huntington placed his private car at their disposal and they have carte blanche on the whole coast, going where they please and staying as long as they like. The party consists of the General and his son, B. I. Butler, a chip of the old block; Mrs. Hildreth and Mrs. Farrington of Lowell; Miss Heard and Mr. Chadwick of Boston, Mr. Webster and O. D. Barrett. Two days were spent at Salt Lake very pleasantly. They visited Camp Douglas, the Germania Smelting Works and other points of interest. The only

UNPLEASANT INCIDENT of the journey occurred at Salt Lake. A man who was once engaged on the centenary in Boston, and who left there for the betterment of Boston, called on him and bored him with a long story of the wrongs of the Gentiles in Utah. He appealed to the General to take up the cudgel and fight for the Gentiles. The General said he did not come there to fight anyone's battles, but on a trip of pleasure and recreation, so he told the man finally that if he was to get into a place that did not suit him, he would pull up and go somewhere else. The fellow took offense at the reception he got and rushed off to the newspapers with a communication, saying that the General advised Gentiles to move out and leave the Territory, with more of the same talk. In political matters the General says he cannot OUTLINE HIS COURSE for the year, any more fully than has heretofore appeared in the papers. He thinks Grant and Tilden will be nominated, and that Grant will be elected easily. He thinks the first ballot will be complimentary to the different State candidates and that no one will be nominated, but after a few ballots Grant will receive a majority. He bases the belief somewhat upon the excellent management of Grant's agents, who are far in a majority as far as brains go. The party will be in California a month, and will visit Virginia City on their return. D. W. Hiltchek, General Passenger Agent of the C. & B. Q. road, accompanied the party here and went ahead last night to secure hotel accommodations.

Changes in the C. P. Time Table.

The changes in the Central Pacific Railroad time table take effect tomorrow, June 1. There is no change in the express trains. Train No. 7, eastbound overland freight, which now arrives at 5 p. m., will arrive at 7:15 p. m. and depart at 8:20 p. m. No. 5, eastbound overland freight and emigrant, which now arrives at 1:20 a. m., will arrive at 2:45 a. m. and depart at 3:15 a. m. No. 6, westbound overland freight and emigrant, which now arrives at 11:10 p. m., will arrive at 9:45 a. m. and depart at 10:30 a. m. These are all the alterations that have been made. No other changes are likely to be made for some time.

Dove Shooting for Market.

Dove shooting for market is not a very profitable business for a white man to follow. The birds bring only sixty cents a dozen. A dozen charges of powder and shot will cost at least thirty-five cents, and the average gunner will miss four out of twelve birds, unless he confines himself to ground shooting. The Indians fire at sitting birds only, and will crawl for half an hour to get a dead shot. As it is difficult to imagine anything of less value than an Indian's time, they are enabled to shoot with a small margin of profit.

Stop That Cough.

With a sample bottle of Kaiser's German Balm. This is the most wonderful cough remedy ever introduced, being mild, yet positive in its action and soothing under all circumstances. Old and young may use it with perfect security. It is rich in the medicinal properties of tar, wild cherry and horseradish. Ask your druggists, Messrs. Osburn & Shoe maker about its merits. They sell large quantities of it and say it supercedes all others. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the facsimile signature of Dr. Kaiser on the wrapper and has his name blown in every 75 cent bottle. Samples 25 cents. Large size 75 cents. b22-d&w

A Lie About Reno Girls.

The Virginia Stage is responsible for the following: A young lady named Katie O'Day, living in Jewett city, Connecticut, has a leg into which a darning needle may be run the entire length without being felt, and the Associated Press correspondent thinks it of sufficient importance to telegraph across the continent. In Reno such a thing would not be noticed. Half the girls of that town are in the same fix. Their stockings are so well filled with sawdust that a darning needle will have no effect upon them.

BASE BALL.

The Alerts Again "Paralyze" the Paralyzers.

The game played by the Alerts and the Paralyzers Sunday afternoon was pronounced the best game of base ball ever witnessed in Reno. It was, however, simply a practice game. The Paralyzers went first to the bat. They made only one run in the first inning. They were "whitewashed" in two subsequent innings, and the Alerts were served the same way once in the course of the game. The game lasted three hours and was won by the Alerts, they being four tallies ahead at the close and having an inning to play. The following is the score:

TEN YEARS' SNOWS.

Accurate Measurements in the Sierra Nevada.

The enormous deposits of snow which fall on the summits of the Sierra Nevada seem almost incredible. People who live on the Atlantic coast or in the interior can hardly realize a body of snow twenty feet deep for miles, lying far into the summer. The figures given below are for the actual fall, in inches, from September until June, but do not show what would be the depth at any one time, as it blows into drifts, packs down and melts more or less all the time. Following are the depths obtained by actual measurement during the past few years:

A Bridge Reported Gone.

It was reported on Saturday that the bridge across the Little Truckee river at Dickey & Jones' old place had been washed away. A McIntosh of Boca Sunday told a reporter that he thought the report incorrect. No portion of the bridge had come down to his mill, as would have been the case had the bridge been carried away. He thought the bridge on the road from Cory's station to Sierra Valley was the one that had gone.

Reform Club Entertainment.

The usual good audience gathered in Reform Club hall on Saturday evening. Some excellent singing and good music were given and the literary portion of the programme was pleasing. Mrs. Younglove's address was delivered with a very marked degree of deliberation that kept the attention of the audience. It was a feeling discourse on the evils of intemperance.

New Toll House.

W. M. Anderson is putting up a toll house on the Pyramid road, on the creek in Prosser valley, a mile north of the English mill. He built the road a few years ago and has never charged toll. The road is in excellent condition and saves four miles in distance between Reno and Deep Wells. The toll will be very light, only enough to pay for keeping the road in good order.

C. C. Stevenson Divorced.

At Virginia City, in the District Court on Saturday, Margaret M. Stevenson was granted a divorce from C. C. Stevenson on the ground of desertion.

THE COMING CAMP.

Mining News From Candelaria—What is Being Done in all the Principal Claims—Active Operations and Excellent Developments—Ore to be Milled at Belleville—Prices of Water and Other Commodities.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CANDELARIA, May 28, 1880.

The Mt. Diablo mine has an ore body in sight of about 800 feet in length by 130 to 150 in width. It does not seem to be a regular ledge, but a vast kidney, or ore body. They are working about 45 men; have good hoisting works and are grading preparatory to taking out ore, which they are going to work at one of the Belleville mills. They are now down about 250 feet. The specimen I send you is a fair sample of the ore now being uncovered. The Dwelly Con. claim is N. & E. of the Mt. Diablo, embracing four claims incorporated about two months ago. They have found a two-foot ledge at the bottom of the shaft. The vein pitches about 40 degrees to the north. They have run in a tunnel some distance, which has passed through several veins of ore that will undoubtedly form a good ledge at a greater depth. The Metallic mine has a double shaft down about 70 feet. Part of the machinery for hoisting works is on the ground and boilers are expected every day, when will be pushed faster. They are going down at the rate of about six feet per day at present and expect to strike the vein at a depth of about 450 feet. They have a well defined vein of ore in the old tunnel of from 6 to 10 feet in width which dips to the north about 40 degrees. The Saratoga mine adjoins the Dwelly on the east. It is an old mine, having shipped considerable ore a few years ago. It is now under new management, who are pushing work ahead. They have a shaft down 150 feet. The vein is of high grade ore, of about six feet in width. The general prospects of this mine are very favorable. The Jackson mine is situated some distance to the east of the Mt. Diablo. It has an incline shaft down 115 feet in a ledge about 10 feet in width—good ore. They are sinking as fast as possible with a winze, and contemplating putting up good hoisting works and sinking a vertical shaft. I send you a specimen of their ore from the bottom of the incline. The ledge pitches to the north about 40 degrees, running east and west. To the north of the ledges forming this district runs a running parallel to the continuous line of croppings from the Mt. Diablo to the east end of the district. It is claimed by some to be a good indication of an ore deposit near. The Potosi mine, at the western end of the district, has two tunnels in about 800 feet. They are now working on ore which they are going to reduce in one of the Northern Belle mills until the first of July, when the Mt. Diablo Co. commence milling their ore at that mill. The Holmes mine has a good prospect. They have run a tunnel in 135 feet, sunk a winze, and are pushing work ahead as fast as possible, with a good force of men. The East Mt. Diablo is down 100 feet and has a drift in about 100 feet, passing through strings of ore, but has not, as yet, struck the ledge. The Old-Timer mine, Banger, Black Hawk, and Missouri are all controlled by the same parties, although not developed to any extent. They show some fine croppings and are on the same line of cropping as the Mt. Diablo and Metallic.

I send you a piece of croppings from the Old-Timer and Missouri. Most all the ledges in this district seem to run east and west and pitch north and south.

WATER COULD BE PROCURED

here from the White Mountains by piping or fluming 20 miles, in sufficient quantities for all purposes. Water now costs 4 cents per gallon, being hauled from Belleville by team. Wood is worth from $20 to $22 per cord. Meats are 50 cents; hay is $50 a ton, barley 5 cents. Should the railroad come in from Wadsworth or Mound House, this will undoubtedly be one of the largest mining camps in the state. The Victor mine has as good, if not better, prospects than any mine in the camp. They now have a tunnel in 700 feet, passing through vein matter, and will undoubtedly strike as good a body of ore as Northern Belle ever had. The Schella mine is running a tunnel now in 1020 feet, passing through a quartz and porphyry formation. They have cut through three ledges of low grade ore, running from 5 to 16 feet wide, and assaying from $16 to $20 per ton. They have one winze down 100 feet, and are pushing work as fast as possible.

ELKO LETTER.

Railroad District—A Brakeman Draws a Knife on a Conductor—Duck Valley Indians as Horny-Handed Farmers—Off for Yankee Fork.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ELKO, May 30, 1880.

The business of Railroad district is increasing. Three or four bull teams have gone out to that camp loaded with coke and lumber. Today John Spence started out with two ten-mule teams loaded with coke and lumber for that place. The mine-owners of the camp are preparing for an active season.

Last evening as the passenger train pulled out, a scene was produced by a man named Murry. Murry, it seems, had been brakeman on a freight train with Lyons, but on account of drunkenness had been discharged two days previous. Murry wanted to beat his way over the road. Case, the conductor, told him not to get on the train, but he paid no heed to the injunction. After the train started Case discovered him and requested him to get off, when Murry drew a knife and made a slash at Case. The train was stopped, and John Lane summoned. The latter worthy soon had Murry in custody, and landed him in the county jail. Murry was intoxicated at the time.

The Indians at Duck Valley seem to be contented. They have put in about 400 acres in wheat, and will put in about 100 acres of barley, and 100 acres in vegetables—potatoes principally. A man started to-day with a load of provisions for the reservation. From this teamster, whose name I do not know, I learn that there are about 200 Piutes on the reservation. He stated that there were five camps of Shoshones, with thirty wigwags to the camp, or about 1,000 Indians that belong on the reservation. Their wheat is growing nicely. They will also plant a few acres in sugar cane for an experiment; also some yellow corn. If these articles grow to advantage, next year they will be cultivated more extensively. The Shoshones and the Piutes are a little adverse to each other, so the teamster says. The Indians all appear to have unlimited confidence in the agent. They always speak of him as John How.

The Yankee Fork country is attracting a great many of our men. About a week ago Z. Tucker, Dr. Lucas, D. McCollough and three or four others started for Wood River. Tucker and Lucas have several locations to prospect at that place. Sine You.

LONE MOUNTAIN.

A Lively Little Mining Camp with Good Prospects—What is Being Done There.

LONE MOUNTAIN, May 26, 1880.

Editor Gazette:—Our little camp is fast developing into a mining district, having about seventy locations. Wood and water are found in sufficient quantities about six miles in the mountains. The Wide West mine has a good prospect, the outcroppings assaying from $16 to $110 per ton. The ore is free milling.

The Enterprise mine has a 13 foot vein of ore, assaying $35 per ton at a depth of about 20 feet. The parties who own it are going down as fast as their means will permit.

The Gladstone mine has an incline down 27 feet, going all the way through an ore body of four feet in width, with good hanging walls, from which the following assays were made: $40, $75, $213, $282 and $321. The owners are very sanguine and are developing as fast as they can.

The Hope mine has a vertical shaft down some distance through ore which assays from $150 to $2,500 per ton.

The Nellie G. mine has a 2½-foot ledge averaging about $26 a ton. Veins in this district generally run northeast and southwest, with a dip of about 50 degrees to the north.

All that is wanted to make a live camp is capital to erect hoisting works and provide better facilities to communicate with mills and supplies. I send you a sample of ore from the Gladstone mine. F. M. G.

Break in the Steamboat Ditch.

A bad break occurred in the Steamboat ditch near Mayberry's ranch on Sunday. The water found its way through a crevice in the bottom of the ditch and came out on the side of the hill thirty feet below. The lower side of the ditch at that point was shoveled out and a flume between six and eight rods in length constructed, through which the water now flows where the break occurred.

A Fine Establishment.

Knut & Jones are opening up a fine stock of groceries, hardware, etc. The shelves of their new store are already well filled with goods. The firm propose to keep a complete assortment of everything in their line of business, and will sell at prices that will satisfy the closest buyers. They have a fine store and will conduct their business in a way to constantly add to their already extensive trade, as in the past, dealing fairly by everybody.

The Chicago Convention Opens To-Day.

An Adjournment Until Tomorrow Morning.

The Convention Organizes With an Anti-Grant Temporary Chairman—Utah's Delegation Admitted—Protests Referred to Committee on Credentials—Conkling Carries an Adjournment.

Opening of the Convention.

CHICAGO, June 2, 1:05 P. M.
The Exhibition building in which the National Republican Convention is being held, presents a scene of striking interest. The platform occupies the south side, under it being a section arranged for committee-men, guests, reporters and correspondents. The roof, side, and every available part of the building are handsomely decorated. At the north end is a large picture of Abraham Lincoln. In the center of the canvas is a strip bearing the motto: "And that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the face of the earth." At 12:30 the delegates were generally in their seats.

George F. Hoar Temporary Chairman.
The Convention was called to order at one o'clock. The temporary chairman, George F. Hoar, was elected unanimously. The roll of States is being called for the appointment of committees on resolutions, credentials, etc.

Questions Referred to Committee on Credentials.

Utah being excluded on the roll of states and territories, Frye asked that it be included. Conkling objected. The Chair decided that it be called. All questions on contested delegations are referred to the Committee on Credentials. Protests from Alabama, Illinois, Louisiana and Pennsylvania are so referred. A resolution passed, giving 500 seats daily to veterans.

The Convention Adjourned Until Tomorrow.

2:35 P. M.—Conkling moved that the Convention adjourn until 11 A. M. to-morrow. Hale opposed the motion. The motion was carried.

Mr. Pickering in Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.
Loring Pickering has been arrested for libel, on complaint of W. M. Neilson, for publishing in Monday's Call Kallach's speech at the Metropolitan Temple, and has given bail. A warrant is out for the arrest of Neilson, for publishing a scurrilous pamphlet about Kallach.

Items from the Truckee "Republican."

Grouse in the neighborhood of Camp 18 are reported to be plentiful. A. J. Bayley of the Grand Central, Lake Tahoe, is expected up from below Saturday.

Wm. Irwin made a trip to Boca and back Saturday—the first time that a team has been over the road for several months.

The Pacific Lumber and Wood Company have a contract to supply Eureka with 162 car loads of lumber, about one million feet.

Stages from Truckee to Tahoe will commence running in a few days. Steamers are making regular trips around the lake.

Half a mile of flume belonging to the Donner Boom and Lumber Co. blew down last Thursday. Men are now busily engaged in repairing the same.

Lou Rape, section foreman at this place, has accepted a like position on the Southern Pacific railroad. His place is to be filled by one Sullivan, of Tunnel 13.

The trout have not reached Truckee owing to the fact that the fish ladders at Camp 20 are out of repair. Should the Fish Commissioner not take steps in the direction of remedying this matter, so that the fish can proceed to their spawning grounds?

Roll of Honor.

Following is the roll of honor of Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls for the month ending May 28th, 1880: Isabel Osborne, 98.7; Ella Bishop, 98; Frank Grippen, 97.6; Mollie Grippen, 97; Evelyn Wagner, 97; May Cara, 97; Grace Dowdell, 96; Carrie Webb, 95.6; Louise Sissa, 95.5.

KATE A. SILL.

Donner Lake Still Frozen.

A year ago to-day Donner Lake was a sheet of sparkling water, blue as the summer sky that bent above it. To-day it is a white field of snow-encrusted ice. No picnics there for weeks to come. The road from Truckee to Donner has just been opened.

CELESTIAL COMMOTION.

The Hi Wah Kidnaping Case—The Hop Sing Company's Swear Vengeance Against Three Chinamen—Threats of Assassination.

The arrest of Hi Wah in Virginia, last week, on a charge of kidnaping, has created quite a commotion among the celestials all along the line. The friends of Hi Wah maintain his innocence, and declare that it is a job put up by the Hop Sing Company to wreak vengeance on Hi Wah for having got the better of them in certain contracts. The Hop Sing Company are reported to have said they will not let up until Hi Wah and his two friends, Ah Jack and Charley Jack, are in the State Prison or the grave. Charlie Jack informed a GAZETTE reporter that all three of the men just named are in mortal fear of their lives. He seems to feel that their doom is sealed. Each of them now carries a pass book, wherein they have their whereabouts noted, by white men, at every step.

Another great, unpardonable sin committed by Hi Wah and his friends it seems, was assisting in a prosecution of a member of the Hop Sing Company for shooting a Chinawoman in Reno a few weeks ago. For this outrage it is said that the Hop Sing Company have openly declared that they will annihilate all three of them. Hi Wah, Ah Jack and Charley Jack are very intelligent Chinamen, are well known in this community, and in a business way, have the confidence of some of the best men, both here and in Carson. Should they be assassinated in this town, the chances are that our "601" would save the county the expense of prosecuting their assassins and the instigators of the work, some of whom are already spotted.

H. B. Maxson in a Hot Place.

The Truckee Republican has been shown a letter recently from H. B. Maxson, of Tucson, Arizona, to Judge Walker, in which he says it is the hottest place he ever saw in his life, and he don't expect to find any hotter after death. 108 degrees in the shade every day, and the people say it is very pleasant. They only feel unpleasant when it is 140 degrees. He says the entire surrounding country is being located as mining property. The houses of Tucson are built of adobe, there being but two brick and two frame houses. The population of Tucson is now about 6,000. There are two churches, two school houses, two hotels, and three newspapers. There is plenty of money there, but what puzzles the new-comers is to get hold of it. The hotels are crowded, and the town is rapidly growing.

The Local Demand for Grain.

The Lake Mills are not altogether like the mills of God, for they do not grind slowly though they grind "exceeding fine." Few people have any idea what a business H. H. Beck presides over in that establishment. During the month of May there were purchased for the mill 544 tons of barley and 170 tons of wheat. With the exception of about 33 tons of wheat from Honey Lake and half a ton from Washoe county, all this grain was imported from California. The freight on the grain thus imported amounted to $15,736.

There is evidently an ample market in Reno for all the grain that the farmers of this section can raise. They should find its growth profitable, as the cost of freight on grain from California should counterbalance the difference between the cost of production in that State and in this.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure for Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Reno, N.Y.

Opening of the Methodist Fair.

The Methodist fair opened Tuesday night in the Pavilion with a large attendance by the general public. The fair is held on the upper floor of the building. The fancy work exhibited for sale showed good taste in design and painstaking skill in execution. There were refreshment tables groaning with their weight of strawberries and cream, ice cream, refrigerated chickens and other toothsome viands. "Ice cool lemonade" was dispensed by a liberal hand. The postal department was under most efficient management. No one enquiring for a letter is allowed to go away disappointed. The lady clerks will obligingly write a letter to any applicant. Postage on all letters only ten cents.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

The Narrow Gauge From Wadsworth to Candelaria to be Commenced Shortly.

Ex-Governor Woods of Oregon, who made several speeches here during the detention of the Boston excursion party, is one of the prime movers in the project of a railroad south from Wadsworth. He passed through Reno Tuesday night returning to San Francisco from a flying trip to Carson. A representative of the GAZETTE met him at the depot and asked for information concerning the prospects of the road's being built. The ex-Governor replied that the survey now being made will be completed in a few days, and that upon its completion the work of construction will be immediately commenced. He said that the Company intend to build the road from Wadsworth to Candelaria as fast as possible. An ample force of men will be employed to prosecute the work with all possible expedition.

After freely imparting this information, the ex-Governor said that it was not the desire of the Company to make any noise about their road at present, and hinted that he would be well pleased if nothing were said about it. But, as the information was given to a reporter, as such, and without any injunction to secrecy, the intelligence is published for what it is worth, for news is news.

Bechtel vs. Kraft—The Defendant Leaves Town.

Justice Young Tuesday decided in favor of the plaintiff in the suit of W. L. Bechtel vs. Louis Kraft. Kraft borrowed $10 from "the house" while playing a poker game at the Oasis, and resisted payment on the ground that it was a gambling debt and therefore could not be legally collected. Bechtel recovered his $10 but it cost him $40 to get it. Kraft mounted his horse Wednesday and started away from the town with his face set in the direction of Wadsworth, wearing a pair of shoes for which he owes Tom Barnett $7 and undergarments for the washing of which he is still in arrears.

Commencement of Work on the Lassen Pass Road.

Says the Modoc Independent of last Saturday: Work is to be commenced on the Lassen Pass road next Wednesday. Twenty men will be put to work under the supervision of Mr. Dodson of Cedarville. The work will be pushed through to a speedy completion. We congratulate the people of Lakeview and Goose Lake valley on the building of a road which will be open all the year. Reno is the natural shipping point of all the northern country, and it is very surprising that this work has not been done before.

The News from Chicago—Grant's Nomination Searched Possible.

CHICAGO, May 31.
The Grant movement apparently has spent its force, and few shrewd observers here to-night consider his nomination a possibility. This impression is strengthened by the despondent air of Conkling and other "third tier managers." Every hour develops evidence that the Grant movement was not as strong as its managers had asserted.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City may 7-eod D&W

An Unexplained Suicide.

It is not known what motive induced John Bannister, the section foreman at Raspberry Station on the C. P., to kill himself. He was found dead on the ground, shot through the head, and a gun close by. Bannister was in Winnemucca on Sunday and acted strangely. He had a wife but no children.

No Deception Used.

It is strange so many people will continue to suffer day after day with Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Sour Stomach, General Debility, when they can procure at our store SHILOH'S VITALIZER, free of cost if does not cure or relieve them. Price, 75 cts. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, Druggists, Reno, Nevada.

JOTTINGS.

—The Pacific Shingle Mill started up on Monday.

—A. L. Hurd resumes his old place as section-boss on the C. P., and has sold out his draying business.

—Vegetables and fruits of all kinds can be found at McClelland & Simpson's. They have everything in the market and sell at the lowest prices.

—L. W. Lee is building a substantial wall of masonry along the western side of his yard. He is going to put up some solid buildings in place of the old sheds he has torn down.

—The funeral of the late Robert Leeper took place at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. There were appropriate services at the Methodist church. A large number of the friends of the family attended.

—The father of a family remarked last evening, that it was astonishing how narrow a space on the door-step could suffice to seat two persons when no one appeared to be coming, but the instant he came in sight the same step seemed not half wide enough for two.

—The Sherman mine of Pyramid has applied for a patent.

—Judge King will re-open the District Court on June 4th, for a single day's business.

—The road from Verdi to Boca is not yet open. Deep snowbanks render it impassable for teams.

—A flock of 330 lambs belonging to Wheeler were driven through town on Saturday evening on the way to the Virginia market.

—Katz & Henry's new flume at Verdi will be in operation in about two weeks. It is sixty feet high where it crosses the river.

—The prizes for the most graceful dancers in Mrs. Alt's class were awarded last Saturday evening to Birdie Flanagan and Walter Fulmer.

—McClelland & Simpson have a full line of vegetables and fruits. Leave your orders with them and have your goods delivered at your door.

—Fred A. Rattery of Boca, a young man lately from the East, went out hunting with two companions on Saturday. He strolled away from the others and got lost in the woods. It was 4 o'clock on Sunday morning when he reached home, after a night of wandering on the mountains.

—Haller's butcher, commonly known as Louis, made a little trip to Virginia on Saturday morning, and was followed by Constable Avery with an attachment for Louis' horse. Avery found both man and horse in Virginia and brought both back to Reno. Several of the young man's creditors had an idea that he was trying to get away from them.

—A man stopped to water his horse at a flume at Brown's one day. There was no water in the flume, and he was about to ride off, when a bystander said: "There will be plenty of water there soon. They're turning it on up above." The horseman waited, and after awhile inquired what time the water would be down. He was informed that it would come in about an hour, but he concluded not to wait.

"I am completely discouraged by your bad conduct," said a teacher in one of our public schools to a refractory boy. "Why don't you stop teaching then and get married, and let somebody else try," was the boy's reply. The teacher's discomfiture was complete.

—The County Commissioners meet next Monday.

—The assessment on Yellow Jacket is delinquent.

—The country about Glendale bridge looks charming now.

—Mosquitoes have already come forth in swarms upon the meadows.

—Traverse any road leading through green pastures now and little midges will gather about your head. Their bites sting like nettles.

—The Champion saloon, where G. W. Mershon sells the best draught beer for five cents a glass, is now open, opposite the Reno Savings Bank.

—Matt Parrott bagged forty-five doves on Sunday, shooting over Geo. Andrews' ranch, about three miles up the river on the southern side. This is the best bag of doves in this valley yet reported this season.

—The few house flies that have made their appearance have a bloated and decayed appearance—hold-overs from last season. The chilly nights are probably unfavorable to the multiplication of the house fly.

—Mrs. B. B. Norton, formerly of Reno, has purchased the Odd Fellows' Hall, in course of construction at Bodie, and will complete the building at her own expense. The greater portion of it will be to let.

—A. Strassburger & Co. are about winding up their business in Reno, and announce that they must have their stock closed out by the middle of July. As they are thus obliged to dispose of all their stock, shrewd buyers will know where to go to get good bargains.

—W. Goeggel has an enviable reputation for the excellence of his watch work. He served a long apprenticeship in his line and thoroughly understands every detail of his business. He always has a first rate stock of watches, clocks, jewelry, etc., on hand. His place is on Virginia street, under the big stairway, the most conspicuous sign in town.

THE COMING FEAST.

An Indian Festival Soon to Take Place on the River's Bank.

The Indian festivities over the return of summer have not yet ceased. The ignoble red men are now scattered over the mountains and hills in pursuit of the timid deer, or spearing the speckled trout on the "riffles" where the shallow waters run. On Saturday of next week the highways and byways, the narrow paths by the river and the devious trails through the sagebrush will be dotted with the returning braves, laden with the spoils of the spear and the chase. On Saturday night the smoke of a score of camp fires will ascend from the flat across the river and the feast of plenty will commence. Juicy venison steaks will hiss and broil upon the hot coals, and the bright flesh of the Truckee trout will turn to a deeper red under the heat of the flames. Around the fires will gather the young and the old of the tribe, the gray-haired sachem in his closely folded blanket with the pipe of peace between his lips, and the little Indian boy with the fragments of a pair of cast-off trousers scantily covering his nakedness. Braves and squaws, boys and papooses will alike share in the feast. Then the circle will form on the level ground, all will join hands, and keeping time to the slowly sung monotonous chant, the dance of the hunter's feast will commence. A picturesque sight it will be, by the light of the blazing fires, and with the new moon hanging low in the west.

Jaw-Breaking at Pioche.

The Pioche Record of Saturday contains, in addition to news of the indictment of two men for killing a horse thief and of one for horse stealing, an account of an attempt at rape and the following item: Last Saturday morning M. C. Hazeltine had his jaw broken by an individual named Bayless. It is said Hazeltine was standing at a bar in one of the saloons when Bayless came along, and with out any provocation whatever, threw old man Hazeltine on the floor, and then deliberately stamped his face with the heel of his boot, breaking the old man's jaw.

I Wish Everybody to Know.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen in this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E. Church, just this moment stopped in our store to say, "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." It is having a tremendous sale over our counters and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of Lung Diseases, such as nothing else has done. Bourbon, Ind., May 15, 1878. Drs. Mottet & France. Sold by Osburn & Shoe maker, Druggists, Reno, Nevada.

Killing Deer By Hundreds.

The Modoc Independent says: W. H. McFadden, the boss hunter of Modoc county, brought to town this week three hundred deer hides, which he had killed in the neighborhood of Jeas Valley last winter. The entire lot, together with a large quantity of dried venison was purchased by Mark & Sanders. Mr. McFadden is conceded to be the boss Nimrod of Modoc county.

Pennsylvania Delegates Repudiating Grant—Fighting the Unit Rule.

SHOCKING CRIME.

Murder in San Bernardino County, California—Human Life Held Cheap.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 24th.—The murder of Edward Sigby yesterday afternoon at Agua Mansa, is the subject of general conversation. Sigby was the stakeholder for a horse race, after the result of which a difficult task placed between Francisco Ortega and another person. The stakes only amounted to $15. Sigby would not surrender the stakes until the disputants had settled the ownership. Ortega then peremptorily demanded the money. Sigby refused to give it up. Ortega then drew his pistol and fired four shots at Sigby, two taking effect—one passing through the left arm and the other entering the middle of the back, passing through the body. He died in a few minutes. Sigby was not armed. When the Sheriff and his Deputy arrived at the scene from San Bernardino about two hours after the murder had disappeared. They were last seen working their way rapidly towards the border, Ortega leading the horse of his victim. Ortega is said to have killed a man at Riverside, about a year ago, in a quarrel over just as trifling a matter as that which caused yesterday's tragedy. Every attempt to arrest him since was defeated by his native California friends, who always managed to keep him concealed from the authorities. Sigby was a laborer, 36 years old, a Canadian by birth, and unmarried. Both of his murderers were under the influence of liquor when he was killed. A short while ago another murder was committed in another part of the county in a dispute over thirty dollars, and the murderer is now in jail here awaiting trial.

An Embezzler Commits Suicide.

SAN JOSE, May 25.—On Monday, the 17th instant, Robert Kreig informed H. L. Cutter, the cashier of the San Jose Savings Bank, that he believed one of a number of packages of coin on special deposit by the City Treasurer was missing, and an investigation showed that a package containing $16,000 in gold coin was gone. The detectives, after a thorough investigation, arrived at the positive conclusion that the guilt lay between Cutter and Kreig. Cutter visited Kreig on Sunday and broached the matter to him, stating that all the bank officials desired was to recover the money if possible, or otherwise clear up the mystery. When Kreig was told that suspicion had fastened upon him, he turned white as a ghost, but said: "Well, let them go on." About 12 o'clock last evening Kreig was found in his bed, weltering in his blood. He left notes to his mother and sweetheart, and also this one to Mr. Sullivan: "You have been my best friend. Buried on — street near — you will find $5,000. The other $11,000 you will find in my monthly account for May."

Trouble Among the Bodie Miners.

BODIE, May 26.—Last night the west crosscut 500-foot level of the University mine made connection with an east crosscut of the Maryland Consolidated. The University men at once compelled the Maryland men to go to the surface, and took possession of the crosscut, as well of certain drifts or ledges from the crosscut. A bulkhead was put in the crosscut, close to the Maryland shaft. The Maryland people allege that the University men were armed with shot guns, which is strenuously denied upon the part of the latter. Colonel A. C. Dunn, President of the Maryland, now here, says that there are three valuable ledges in the crosscut, which are the property of his company. The University, on the other hand, claim the ground up to the point where they have placed their bulkhead. The Miners' Union having heretofore announced that the use of shot guns shall not be permitted in the district, have called a meeting for 1 o'clock tomorrow, to take the matter into consideration. The affair has caused little or no excitement here.

Woman's Wisdom.

"She insists that it is more important, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it, that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way.—New Haven Palladium.

From the Hub,

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the public that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, don't wait until you are prostrated by a disease that may take months for you to recover in.—Boston Globe.

"The goods ordered from you came safely and promptly to hand. We find your goods perfectly satisfactory, and your prices so much lower than what we have been paying that we shall certainly recommend your house to our friends and do our future trading with you."

The above remarks are quoted from a letter received from one of our customers in the interior, and is a fair sample of the compliments we daily receive from people living in all parts of the Pacific coast.

The time is past when people living in all parts of the country were forced to pay ENORMOUS PRICES

70,000 Carriages

Manufactured by Emerson, Fisher & Co., are now in use in every part of the American Continent.

They give unfailing satisfaction. All their work is warranted. They have received testimonials from all parts of the country of purport similar to the following, hundreds of which are on file subject to inspection:

MESSES. EMERSON, FISHER & CO.: GALVA, ILL., July 16, 1879. I have used one of your Top Buggies three years, and three of them two years in my livery stable, and they have given me perfect satisfaction and are in constant use. OSCAR SMALLEY.

MESSES. COFFEY & JOHNSON: NEWBERRY, S. C., July 17, 1879. Dear Sirs:—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher buggy I bought from you as roughly I suppose as any one could. I had a fast horse, drove him at full speed, sometimes with two grown ladies and myself in the buggy, and it is to-day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do. A. M. TEAGUE, Farmer.

The favorable reputation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by Liverymen, Physicians, Farmers and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increased demand from those localities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of their mammoth establishment have been extended, enabling them now to turn out in good style,
